

His friend got literal picture of how he fell

Some people never learn to stay out of trouble.

Just one year ago, on Jan. 17, 1976, Frank Gerrigues, 30, of Brea was rescued by the Mt. Baldy Fire Department when he slipped and fell into the canyon at the base of the San Antonio falls above the village.

He suffered severe injuries, including a broken leg, broken arm and punctured lung and was airlifted from the accident scene by helicopter.

Monday, Gerrigues took a friend up to the falls to show him where the accident happened.

Yep. He did it again.

The Mt. Baldy Fire Department rescue team again was called out to treat Gerrigues who fell down the canyon. He was taken by ambulance to Doctors Hospital at Montclair where he was treated and released.

Firemen at Mt. Baldy said his injuries appeared to be a broken wrist and deep cuts.

Supreme Court upsets bus-integration plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today struck down a federal court's plan to integrate Indianapolis schools by busing black students to surrounding, predominantly white school districts.

The court sent the case back to a lower court after being told by the Justice Department and state officials in Indiana that the court-ordered, interdistrict busing was not necessary to overcome segregation in the nation's 29th largest school system.

By a 6-3 vote, the court told the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to take a new look at the desegregation case in light of recent Supreme Court rulings that discriminatory intent must be proved before the courts can take action. Justices William J. Brennan Jr., Thurgood Marshall and John Paul Stevens dissented.

Officials have estimated that the Indianapolis desegregation plan would require the busing of about 10,000 black youngsters. Stevens last summer postponed the plan's effective date until the Supreme Court could consider several appeals.

In another case, the Supreme Court refused to hear arguments by school officials in Louisville, Ky., that a court-ordered desegregation plan enforced there more than a year ago is too harsh. The plan, source of anti-busing riots and other widespread violence that required the presence of National Guard troops, requires the busing of about 23,000 students.

Recent rulings by the justices have indicated a reluctance to have courts issue sweeping desegregation orders.

The main question raised in challenges to the 1975 order in Indianapolis, later upheld by the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, is whether the interdistrict remedy is warranted.

In 1968, the Justice Department sued the Indianapolis Board of School Commissioners to overturn what it called segregationist policies in city schools. But it never suggested a remedy that included the 10 other school districts in Marion County.

After seven years of court battles, U.S. District Judge S. Hugh Dillin ordered state and school officials to implement the multidistrict plan.

Dillin decided that because black students made up about 40 per cent of the 98,000 school population in Indianapolis, a one-district plan wouldn't work. "When the percentage of Negro pupils in a given school approaches 40, more or less, the white exodus becomes accelerated and irreversible," the judge said.

The multidistrict plan would give most schools at least a 15 per cent black student population.

Dillin, upheld by the court of appeals, ruled that black students in Indianapolis had suffered two violations of equal protection rights safeguarded by the Constitution.

—When the municipal government in Indianapolis and other governmental units in Marion County were replaced by a consolidated, countywide government called Unigov, the boundaries of the city's school system remained the same. Most black students stayed in schools within the old city boundaries.

—All public housing projects, in which 98 per cent of the residents are black, were confined to areas within the old boundaries of the city. That added to the concentration of black students.

School and government officials argued that the school district boundaries were not altered because "a consolidated school district would be large, with consequent loss of citizen participation and that it would increase taxes."

The court said that, while these governmental decisions might not have been racially motivated, they had "an obvious racial segregation impact."

The lower courts also found that the placing of public housing was racially motivated, and barred further construction.

The court said that remedies have to fit the type of segregation in effect, and ordered the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to come up with a more limited remedy.

Florida's vegetable, citrus crop hard hit by freeze

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — From Florida oranges to Florida tomatoes, consumers will have to pay more after word that last week's freeze destroyed nearly all the state's winter vegetables and almost half its citrus crop for losses exceeding $250 million.

As damage estimates mounted Monday, Gov. Reubin Askew asked the federal government to declare the state an agriculture disaster area.

The rest of the East, thawing but threatened by further cold and snow today, struggled with crippling natural gas shortages and frozen waterways blocking transport of fuel and supplies.

President Carter was reported considering removing federal price controls on natural gas in an effort to ease a situation that has closed schools to 40,000 students and caused layoffs of more than 500,000 workers.

U.S. Agriculture Secretary Robert Bergland said he would visit Florida this week to review the damages. A disaster declaration from Bergland would make growers eligible for special low-cost loans.

2,600-mile murder trip

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police theorize a 27-year-old woman flew 2,600 miles from California to kill her boyfriend's father out of revenge, but died after a knife fight with her victim.

The double slaying occurred at the Evanston home of a Cincinnati mailman, police said. The victims were Paul Robinson, 56, and Velma Ritschel.

"We feel she flew here to kill him," said Police Sgt. Paul Morgan.

Miss Ritschel was found in Morgan's home after police received a phone call from a male saying he was being robbed by a woman. Both died of knife wounds. Police said robbery was not the motive.

Morgan said Miss Ritschel flew to Cincinnati Jan. 10, rented a car on Jan. 14 and died at Robinson's home Jan. 19. She had a return flight ticket for the night of the murders.

"We feel the case has been resolved," said Morgan.

Police said Robinson's son Gary and Miss Ritschel lived together in Hollywood.

For each exemption claimed

Carter mulls $50 tax rebate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration hopes to provide a $50 cash payment for each American, including those who are too poor to pay taxes, Carter budget director, Bert Lance, said today.

Lance said the payment would be in the form of a $50 tax rebate for each exemption claimed by a taxpayer. There also would be a cash payment for persons receiving Social Security benefits and for low-income persons who don't pay taxes.

The total payments this year would be about $11 billion, he said. Congress would first have to approve the program, which still isn't complete in every detail, Lance told a news briefing.

He also disclosed that President Carter has decided to propose additional help for business by providing an option between a 2 per cent increase in the investment tax credit — to a total of 12 per cent — or a tax deduction equal to 4 per cent of employee Social Security taxes.

Lance said it isn't certain that every American will receive exactly a $50 rebate, but indicated that this is the goal for the moment. He also said it might be too costly from an administrative standpoint to try to provide a cash payment for all low-income persons.

"We will try to reach all we can; unfortunately there may be some we can't reach," he said.

Carter earlier had disclosed he would ask Congress to propose between $7 billion and $11 billion in tax rebates to stimulate the economy this year, and Lance provided additional important details today.

He said the rebates for taxpayers would be equal to about $50 per exemption. The rebates will extend to upper-income taxpayers, but he said it isn't certain that it would be $50 at all levels.

Lance made clear that Carter has decided to go for the upper limits of the economic stimulus program he announced in December. He said the total cost of the program, including tax changes and jobs projects, would be about $15.8 billion in 1977 and $15.5 billion in 1978, a total of more than $31 billion.

Lance said there is no way of calculating precisely at this point how much each taxpayer would actually receive.

He said he hopes at least some parts of the tax package, if not all, will clear Congress "and be in place by April," but he said he can't now predict when the payments actually would be in the mail.

Lance said the new administration has decided to broaden the package for helping businessmen, in part because businessmen wanted it. "The reaction of the business community ... naturally had some influence," he said.

Carter originally had proposed letting businessmen take a tax credit equal to 5 per cent of the total amount they pay in Social Security taxes for their employees.

Lance said this now has been reduced to a 4 per cent credit. But businessmen will be given a choice, if Congress approves, of either claiming the Social Security credit, or taking an expanded 12 per cent credit for new investments. The investment tax credit is now 10 per cent.

Lance said this would increase the total package of help for businessmen to $2.5 billion, instead of the $2 billion total proposed earlier.

GRASS ROOTS EXPERIMENT

Walter Orlinsky, president of the Baltimore City Council, bags groceries at a supermarket checkout counter so he can get close to the people. Since July, he has managed to get 12 days free from his council chores to spend working on jobs ranging from bagger to telephone installer, fireman and policeman.

Senator urges return to selective service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee said today he is convinced the nation must return to the draft as a source of military manpower.

"I'm convinced that like it or not we're going to have to go back to the Selective Service system for obtaining some of our men," Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said at the opening of a hearing on U.S. defense posture.

The principal witness was Defense Secretary Harold Brown, who told the committee it would be another month before President Carter will decide what changes to make in the $123 billion, defense budget sent to Congress a week ago by the outgoing Ford administration.

In what he called a statement of "my views of the international environment," Brown told the committee that "the basic issue is not whether the U.S. should have ample military power — we must assure that we do — but how much is enough."

Pentagon sources have disclosed that last Friday, the day he was sworn in as defense secretary, Brown notified senior military officials of tentative plans to reduce their budgets by a total of about $2.8 billion.

President Carter said frequently during the campaign that $5 billion to $7 billion in waste could be cut from the Pentagon budget.

At Armed Services Committee hearings on his nomination, Brown told the panel "it's not going to be easy" to cut the defense budget by that amount.

To the surprise of the Air Force, Brown did not list cancellation of the controversial B1 bomber.

L.A. Co. awards $343,000 contract for M.M. clubhouse

The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors this morning awarded a $343,000 contract for the construction of a new clubhouse at the Mountain Meadows Golf Course in Pomona.

The contract went to the D. J. Anderson Construction Co.

The clubhouse project is to include a pro shop and restaurant as well as locker rooms, parking areas and landscaping.

A foundation-pad where the clubhouse will be built already has been constructed near the entrance of the 18-hole golf course in the Ganesha Hills northwest of the Los Angeles County Fairgrounds.

Completion date for the construction tentatively is set for June or July.

Funds to pay for the construction will come from the county park department's accumulated capital from golf fees.

Measles epidemic in county; 4 local cases

By VONNE ROBERTSON
PB Staff Writer

Health officials in Los Angeles County say measles has reached epidemic proportions and the Pomona Health Center has already had four cases reported.

"While we have so far escaped the epidemic in other parts of the county where more than 350 cases and one death are reported so far this season, we are prepared for a sharp increase," said Abel Martinez, information officer with the Pomona center.

"In anticipation of the epidemic, the Pomona Health Center has scheduled a measles immunization this Saturday and on Feb. 5 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the health center.

"The free clinic is for babies from six months up to 18-year-olds," Martinez added.

Dr. Shirley Fannin, head of the Acute Communicable Disease Control for the county Health Services Department, said Monday that the epidemic was heightened by the failure of schools to insist that all children are immunized against the disease.

Martinez said that state law demands physical examinations for children entering school and immunizations are required, but the law is not really enforced.

"The Pomona Health Center provides free immunization for all communicable diseases recommended by health officials every day during the week. We also conduct a clinic one Wednesday night a month," added Martinez.

"Even with this free service to valley residents, many children are in danger of catching measles because they have not been immunized."

A health department spokesman said measles, characterized by fever and a rash, escalates into pneumonia in one out of 100 cases and encephalitis is one out of 1,000 instances.

A death from the traditional childhood disease occurs in one out of every 2,000 cases, the spokesman added.

35 on death row given reprieve in Tennessee

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Thirty-five prisoners sentenced to mandatory electrocution under Tennessee's capital punishment law have been reprieved by the state Supreme Court.

In striking down the 1974 law Monday, the court said the prisoners must be resented to terms ranging from 20 years to life.

The court ruling followed the terms of a U.S. Supreme Court decision last July which declared that death penalty laws were unconstitutional if they made execution mandatory for certain crimes.

Gov. Ray Blanton, who has repeatedly said he would not allow any state prisoner to die before his term expires in January 1979, had no immediate comment.

State Rep. Frank Lashlee, one of the leading death penalty proponents in the legislature, said, "This ruling will have no effect on what the legislature does."

Billy Carmack Brown Jr., 29, one of the men in whose case the state court ruled, had been scheduled to die Feb. 22 for killing a man in Lebanon by running over him with the victim's car.

"I was a little worried about it, what with Gilmore and all," Brown said, referring to the firing squad death in Utah last week of Gary Gilmore — the first execution in the United States in nearly 10 years.

S.B. County leash law to be rigidly enforced

By VONNE ROBERTSON
PB Staff Writer

Dogs running loose in San Bernardino County will find themselves all tied up with officials, and their owners will feel a real bite on the pocketbook.

Effective Feb. 1, the county's public health department will initiate enforcement of the county's leash law enacted last October by the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors.

"We are spending this month educating the public about the ordinance before rigidly enforcing it," said Curtis Martin, chief animal control officer.

"While we have been citing some individuals who have been previously warned but persist in letting a dog run loose, we prefer to warn people first," he added.

Chino bonds sale okayed

The San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors has approved the sale of $3 million in bonds by the Chino Unified School District.

Those bidding on the purchase included United California Bank, Bank of California, Crocker National Bank, Security Pacific Bank and the Bank of America.

The animal control department is placing information brochures on doorknobs of county residences, distributing pamphlets in the schools, and announcing the rules in the news media.

According to recent statistics, the county's dog population is estimated at 80,000 and growing rapidly. Of this number, about 10 to 12 per cent are considered stray or loose dogs.

Martin said that public health officials are concerned with the widespread problem of unleashed, free-roaming dogs because of a serious health threat to humans and other animals.

"Unvaccinated dogs that come in contact with rabid small game or bats present a potential source of rabies. Stray or unattended dogs increase the risk of dog bites, dog packs, property damage, livestock damage, highway accidents and irritations for the public.

"In addition, these dogs also breed without control, thereby increasing the unwanted dog population," Martin said.

Last year, there were over 3,000 reported dog bites and 42,000 complaints registered with the county's animal control office. Most of the dog bites were attributed to unattended dogs, Martin added.

The new law requires that all dogs, not on the enclosed property of their owners, be restrained by a leash or under immediate command control.

Dog owners who fail to comply with the ordinance will be issued a citation. The maximum penalty is a $500 fine or 100 days in jail or both.

The new leash law will be enforced by 27 animal control officers. In addition, a specialized patrol and enforcement team, consisting of four officers and four fully equipped vehicles, will patrol high density areas where numerous violations of the law have occurred.

Officers will attempt to return stray animals with a license to their owners. If the owners are not at home, the dogs will be impounded at shelters up to two weeks.

Impound fees are $8, plus a daily charge depending on the shelter.

Unlicensed dogs will be taken to shelters and held for 72 hours before they are disposed of in a humane manner, Martin said.

Dogs impounded in the West End will be taken to the Chaffey Humane Society. The city of Upland operates its own dog pound and the cities of Ontario, Montclair and Chino contract with the Chaffey Humane Society for dog control. The new ordinance affects all unincorporated areas of the county.

Licenses for dogs may be obtained at any county health department office with the presentation of a rabies vaccination certificate.

Area clinics for rabies shots will be held next May and June, prior to 1977-78 licensing.

AZTECS ON STAGE

The Esplandor Azteca dance ensemble from Mexico City will be presenting shows at Pomona Schools in the coming weeks. The group will be at Garey High School Wednesday and at Pomona High School on Feb. 8. The Pomona School District's Emergency School Aid Act (ESAA) History and Culture of Minorities component and the district's Bilingual Bicultural Program are co-sponsoring the group's local performances.

Claremont City Council to discuss annexation

Should the city of Claremont annex as far west as Williams Avenue or stop at the Thompson Creek channel?

Such a question will be discussed today at 7:30 p.m. by the Claremont City Council at the city hall.

Several residents living in the Piedmont Mesa area have asked to be annexed to the city, and the council will be talking about how much of an area to include.

City Manager Norman King said that a Piedmont Mesa annexation could include an area with sufficient tax base so that the new city tax revenue would generate sufficient funds to offset the cost of new city services.

King noted that residents in the area already are using many city streets and parks and that the city would anticipate new capital expenditures to serve the area.

King said that special consideration should be given to the precise boundaries of the western and southern parts of the Piedmont area.

The council also will discuss the possibility of annexing the Hughes property between Base Line Road and College Way, and the Lewis-Garrison property and the surrounding area.

In other matters, the council is expected to approve an agreement with the county to pay half the salary of a school crossing guard at Mountain Avenue and Base Line Road, and to adopt a new noise ordinance.

Symposium on respiratory diseases to be held at SACH

The John B. Ellena Memorial Symposium on Respiratory Diseases will be held Wednesday from 7:45 a.m. to noon at San Antonio Community Hospital in Upland.

The program is sponsored by SACH and Pomona Valley Community Hospital as part of their joint continuing medical education program. The program results from studies by the Clinical Affairs, Pediatric and Surgical Committees at both hospitals.

Dr. Harold Yanamura, president of the SACH medical staff, will open symposium with a brief history of the John B. Ellena Department of Respiratory Therapy and will introduce Mrs. Ellena.

The program will include workshops on "The Use and Abuse in Intermittent Positive Pressure Breathing," by Dr. John E. Hodgkin, medical director of respiratory care at Loma Linda University Hospital; "Acute Respiratory Failure," by Dr. Oscar J. Balchum, director of pulmonary diseases service at the USC School of Medicine; and "Respiratory Therapy as Related to Medicine and Surgery," presented by Dr. Myron Stein of UCLA School of Medicine and co-director of the department of pulmonary medicine at the Dr. David M. Brotnan Memorial Hospital in Culver City.

Dr. Fouad D. Tawadrous, director of the respiratory therapy department at SACH, will demonstrate the use of respirators with surgical patients.

Arrested in burglary

An 18-year-old Pomona man, due to be sentenced on two counts of burglary in Pomona next month, was arrested early this morning by Montclair police and sheriff's deputies after a man smashed the windows of two businesses on Central Avenue in Montclair and took a cash box.

Dale Alan Brightwell of 429 Chester St., was booked in the West End jail on suspicion of burglary about an hour after a burglar had broken into the Central Auto Parts Store and Butner's Flower Patch in the 10800 block of Central Avenue about 4 a.m.

West End Sheriff's deputies were alerted to the burglaries after an alarm was tripped at the Central Auto Parts Store when the front window was smashed.

About the same time, Sgt. Andy Allison of the Montclair Police Department, going south on Central Avenue, saw a car in front of him make a quick U-turn and run through a stop sign.

Allison wrote down the license number of the vehicle just as sheriff's deputies pulled up to investigate the burglar alarm.

About an hour later, Montclair police spotted a car with the same license plate that Allison had noted, and arrested its driver, who was identified as Brightwell.

Escapee turns self in

A 21-year-old Cucamonga man who allegedly escaped from deputies investigating an auto burglary at Base Line Road and Archibald Avenue in Cucamonga Sunday night turned himself in to West End Sheriff's deputies Monday afternoon.

Arthur Serrano Acuna of 10378 E. 25th St., Cucamonga, was booked in the West End jail on suspicion of burglary after he was questioned by sheriff's detectives.

Detectives had been seeking Acuna since he escaped from two deputies treating him for an arm laceration at the scene of the alleged auto burglary.

Deputies said they had caught the suspect going through a car at Archibald Avenue and Base Line Road and had handcuffed him Sunday night.

The suspect complained that his arm was hurting because of a laceration. Deputies believe the wound occurred when the suspect broke the window of the vehicle. They unlocked the handcuffs. At that time the suspect bolted, running eastbound on Base Line Road.

Two women robbed

Two young women were robbed at knife-point when they returned to their car on the McDonald's restaurant parking lot at 2145 Murchison Ave. in Pomona, police reported.

The victims, Leslie Joyce McCracken, 21, and Karen Lee Cruz, 22, both of Walnut, surrendered their purses to two men, one of whom was armed with a 6-inch hunting knife.

The victims said they had walked to their car and were about to enter late Sunday night when one of the pair approached and asked for a cigarette. Then the second man, wearing a ski mask, walked up and demanded their purses. The young women complied, were ordered into their car and the robbers fled.

The knife-wielder was described as black, about 20, 6 feet tall and thin. He wore a knit cap, windbreaker and dark trousers.

Parking lot robberies

A San Gabriel man and his wife were robbed Sunday evening on the parking lot of Denny's Restaurant at 1504 Gillette Road in Pomona.

The victims, John C. Baldwin, 45, an engineer, and his wife, Pauline, said they had just parked their car when another car pulled in behind them. A youth got out and advanced on them holding a bayonet in each hand. When he reached their car he demanded money.

Baldwin said he surrendered his wallet, cash and his wrist watch. Mrs. Baldwin told the robber she had no valuables and he returned to the car and was driven away.

The robber was described as black, 17 to 19 years old, 5 feet 9 to 11 and slim. He wore a dark, knit cap, black jacket and blue jeans. He was driven away in a 1963-model light-blue Buick two-door.

The car had been taken in the robbery of another man a few minutes earlier in the 200 block of W. Artesia Street, police said.

That victim, Frank Minano, said two men approached him armed with a small pistol and a long-bladed knife after he had just parked his car. They took his cash and his car and left him standing there.

Pizza Hut held up

Ontario police this morning continued their search for a well dressed robber who robbed the Pizza Hut restaurant at 142 N. Mountain Ave., Ontario, of a small amount of cash early Monday morning.

Police said the robber, wearing modern clothing and armed with an older, possibly antique pistol, held two women clerks at bay while he scooped up the cash shortly after midnight.

The robber escaped with the money in a Bank of America cash bag.

Chino store robbed

A man wearing a bright orange and white halloween mask and armed with a handgun robbed the Chicane Country Store at 12985 13th St. in Chino of a small amount of cash Saturday night, police reported.

According to Chino police, the robber entered the store about 5 p.m. and produced a handgun. The clerk handed the cash over on demand and the robber fled out the door.

Police said the robber was seen jumping onto a red motorcycle and was wearing a red helmet.

Visitor blinded by shot

A young Culver City man, visiting Pomona for the first time, was blinded in one eye early Sunday when he was struck by one of several shots fired into a group attending a party at 751 S. Towne Ave., police said.

The victim, Jesse Garcia Castro, 18, was hit in the face by shotgun pellets. One penetrated his right eye, damaging it to such an extent that an ophthalmologist said it would have to be removed. Castro was treated at Pomona Valley Community Hospital and transferred to County-USC Medical Center where the surgery was to be performed.

The party was a wedding reception given for Jesse P. Alvarez, 20 and his wife, Allias, police said. The couple had invited several friends from Culver City.

Just before 1 a.m., several cars drove by slowly and at least two youths exited one car and fired several shots. The pair fled over a 5-foot block wall and returned to their car before being driven away. The weapon was believed to have been a 12-gauge shotgun.

Castro later told police that he had never been in Pomona before and did not know his attackers.

Officers said that the persons involved may be members of a Pomona street gang who were upset that out-of-towners had been invited to a local party.

Cubans training Rhodesia guerrillas for bloodbath?

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — Black Rhodesian nationalist sources said today that Cuban advisers are training guerrillas for the war against Rhodesia's white minority regime.

The report came amid talk of an impending racial bloodbath in Rhodesia because of Prime Minister Ian Smith's rejection Monday of British proposals for a peaceful transition to black rule there.

Smith said the proposals would have led to an immediate surrender of power to "Marxist-indoctrinated" black nationalists.

The sources said the Cubans, apparently from nearby Angola, are training fighters of the Zimbabwe People's Army — ZIPA — the military arm of the Patriotic Front led by Rhodesian black nationalists Joshua Nkomo and Robert Mugabe. Zimbabwe is the black nationalists' name for Rhodesia.

An estimated 12,000 to 15,000 Cuban troops remained in Angola after helping a Marxist-oriented nationalist group seize power there last year.

In recent months, Rhodesian government officials have expressed fears that these Cuban forces might enter the four-year-old Rhodesian conflict in some way. Mozambique, which also has a Marxist government, is the primary base for guerrilla operations against Rhodesia.

The government-owned Zambia Daily Mail said in an editorial today that Smith's rejection of the British peace plan "means a bloody racial war in southern Africa that will certainly unleash a seething cauldron of ... racial hate."

The Zambian government of President Kenneth Kaunda has provided support for the Rhodesian guerrillas and is one of five so-called "frontline" black African countries trying to oust the white regime in Salisbury.

"We now have a hot war before us and the best (the) people of Africa can do, especially those in the frontline countries, is to brace themselves to win and to convince the enemy that we shall bury him, not him to bury us," the editorial said.

In London, Foreign Minister Anthony Crosland of Britain offered Monday to fly to Rhodesia, a breakaway British colony, if his trip would help revive peace talks between the Smith government and black nationalists. Negotiations in Geneva between the two sides became deadlocked late last year.

Crosland told a television interviewer he had ordered Ivor Richard, the British chairman of the Geneva negotiations, to remain in southern Africa for the time being.

In Johannesburg, South Africa, Richard said Smith's contention that the latest British peace proposals would mean an immediate black takeover "was absurd."

"I think that his main reason (for rejecting the British plan) was that he felt it was unacceptable to the white population of Rhodesia," Richard said. "This is quite unprovable."

He said he planned to stay in Johannesburg for at least a day "to see which way the dust settles best."

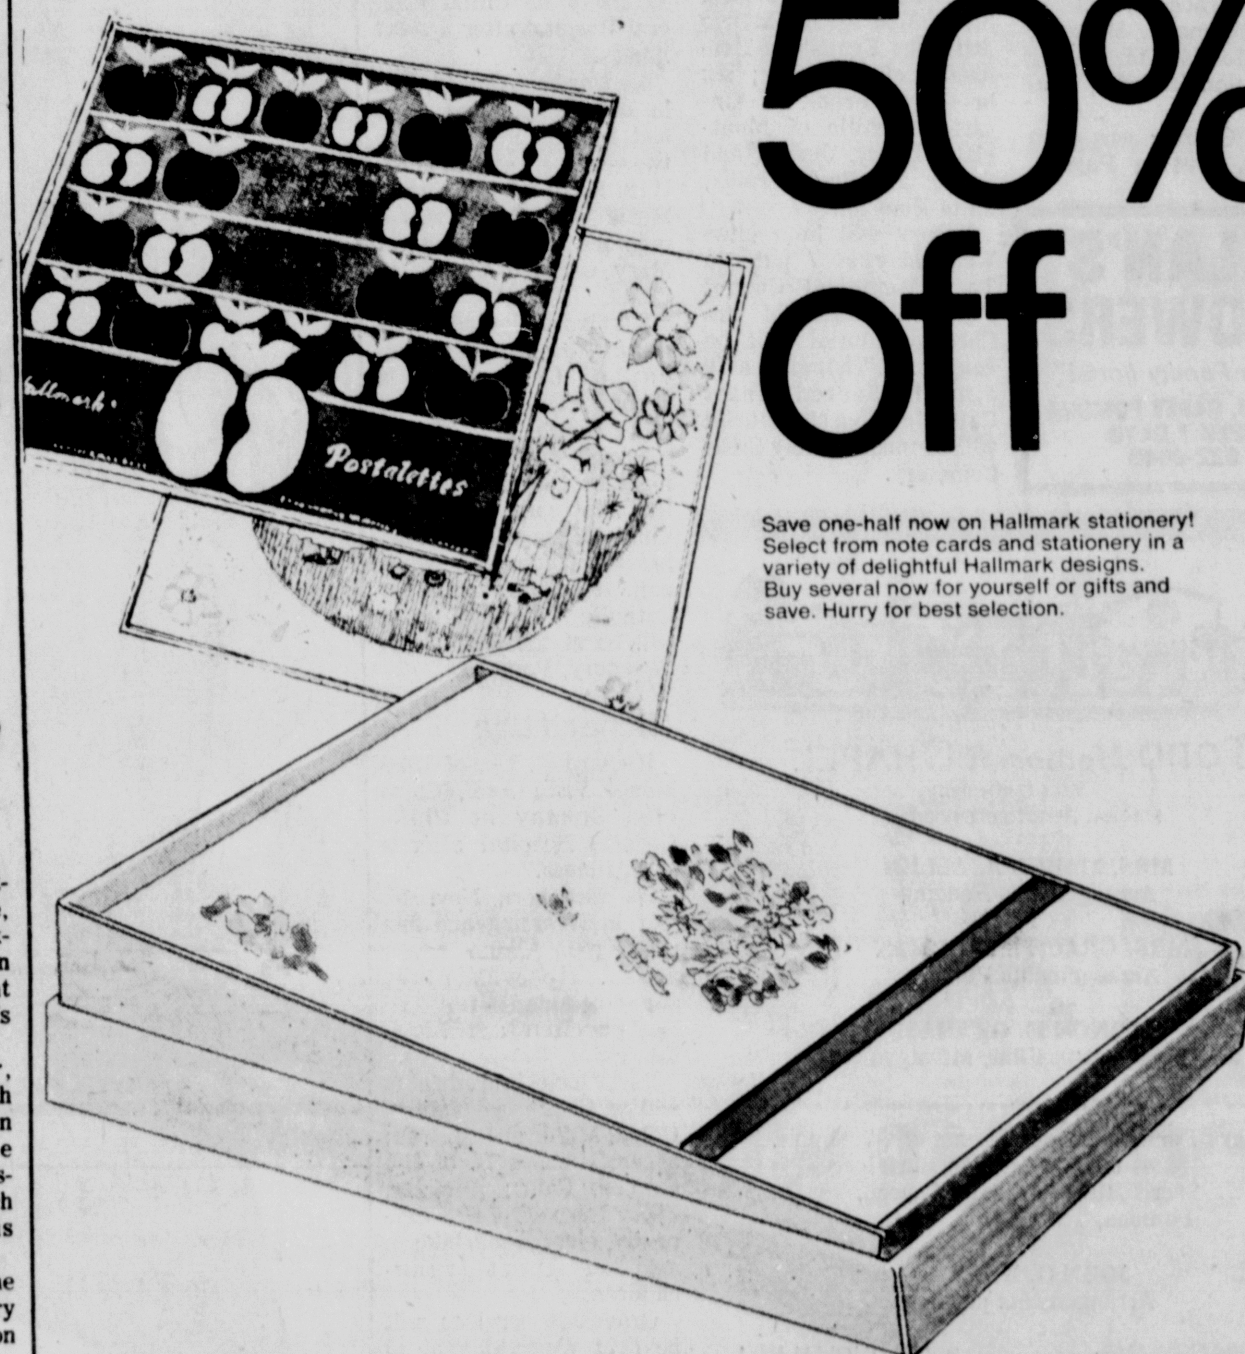

Prime Minister James Callaghan of Britain may seek American pressure on Smith when Vice President Walter F. Mondale visits London Thursday on his tour of major American allies.

Starts Wednesday, January 26.

Lid back on gasoline prices, may come off on natural gas

WASHINGTON (AP) — After putting the price lid back on gasoline, President Carter is considering taking the lid off natural gas prices in an effort to cope with a shortage that has closed schools and caused layoffs of as many as 500,000 workers.

Carter's top energy adviser, James R. Schlesinger, worked with congressional committee staffs on Monday to draw up possible emergency legislation aimed at easing the natural gas problems, which have been aggravated by this winter's bitter cold.

Congressional sources said the proposals may urge the temporary removal of federal price controls on natural gas transported between states, and may propose allowing gas pipeline companies to shift supplies among themselves to alleviate the worst shortages.

The White House said Monday night that Carter had not received or studied the proposals.

The proposals would not necessarily end the current crisis but could prompt suppliers to move more gas onto the market — if they have it.

Carter on Monday rescinded former President Gerald Ford's proposal to end price controls on gasoline, saying he wanted more time to review the action. Congress had been expected to kill the proposal anyway. Critics said it could raise prices at the pump by several cents.

The White House said the President was not committing himself for or against gasoline decontrol. A Carter spokesman noted the natural gas shortage could affect the gasoline market because refineries may have to reduce production of gasoline in order to turn out more heating fuels. That could make the retention of price controls even more important in the immediate future, the White House said.

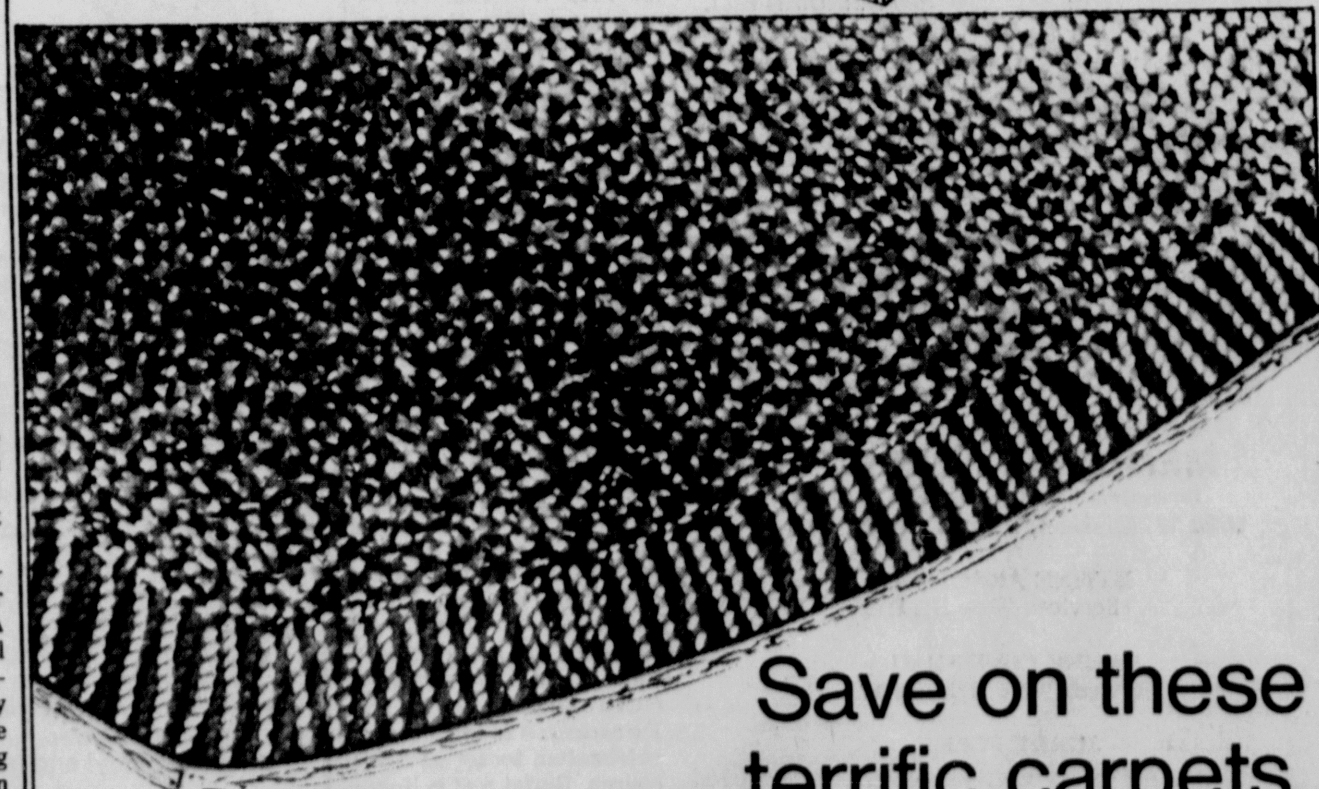

'Explosives' box found to be hoax

A wooden box marked "Danger, Explosives," caused some anxious minutes at the Bank of America Rowland Heights branch at 1903 E. Colima Road Monday morning, but turned out to be a dud.

The box, measuring 24 inches long by 24 inches wide by 6 inches deep, was found against a wall of the bank by a gardener. He pointed it out to bank officers who called the Industry sheriff's station.

After station deputies saw the box, they summoned experts of the arson and explosives detail who eventually opened it and found nothing inside.

Someone apparently went to a lot of trouble to make up the container to appear as if it concealed a bomb, deputies said later.

Price, as judgment debtor(s), I have levied upon all the right, title and interest of said judgment debtor(s) in the property in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, described as follows:
Lot 134, Tract 22678, map book 602, pages 62/65
Street address is purported to be: 531 E. Grove St., Pomona, Calif.
This sale is being conducted by virtue of a writ of execution issued on December 20, 1976 showing a net balance of $635.53 actually due on said judgment.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on March 15, 1977, at 11:00 o'clock A.M. at Los Angeles County Courthouse, 110 N. Grand Ave., Grand Avenue entrance, City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California, I will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in lawful money of the United States, all the right, title and interest of said judgment debtor(s) in the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said execution, with accrued interest and costs.
Dated at Los Angeles, California, January 13, 1977.

LA VERNE COLLEGE registration for new undergraduate students, weekend college students, LVCapa (La Verne College Accelerated Program for Adults) and graduate students will be available from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.
"Program changes will be accepted during general registration Jan. 31 through Feb. 1," said Bill Wagoner, registrar at La Verne College.
Late afternoon and evening classes at graduate and undergraduate levels begin Wednesday, Feb. 2, at 4 p.m. General college undergraduate day courses begin on Thursday, Feb. 3, at 8 a.m.
"Registrations will continue to be accepted by the registrars office through Friday, Feb. 11 at 5 p.m.," said Wagoner.
Beginning Feb. 14 through Feb. 23, late registration for classes is done by special approval only. A $10 late fee is required with late registration.
The first series of weekend college courses begins Friday, Jan. 28. Students may register Friday between 5 and 7 p.m.

Evening registration hours for the first two weeks of the semester are scheduled for 5 to 7 p.m., Feb. 1 through 4.
For additional information, persons may contact the La Verne College registrar office at 593-3511, Ext. 234.
Understanding the anxieties many foreigners encounter when learning American language and culture, CITRUS COLLEGE will offer a one-semester course, "English as a Second Language," to be held at Maxwell School in Duarte.
The class will be taught Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 to 11 a.m. and offers four units of college credit. Classes begin Feb. 1.
Registration for the class will be held at Maxwell School, Feb. 1, beginning at 8:30 a.m. The address is 733 Euclid Ave.
Mrs. Sylvia Lenitt of Claremont will instruct the class.
Novelist John Gardner will lecture at PITZER

COLLEGE Feb. 15 and 17 at 8 p.m. in Avery Auditorium. Both lectures are free and open to the public.
Sixth to appear in the Pitzer College Artist and Scholar Series, Gardner will discuss "Chaucer and Nominalism" on Feb. 15 and "Death of Art," Feb. 17.
Critically acclaimed by the "Saturday Review" as "an artist of rare imagination and power," Gardner is the author or several novels including, "Grendel," "Resurrection," "The Sunlight Dialogues," "Nickel Mountain," "The Wreckage of Agathon," "October Light."
He also has written a critical book on Chaucer, "Chaucer and Nominalism," "The Alliterative Morte Arthure and Five Other Middle English Poems" and "Jason and Medea." His opera, "Rumpelstiltskin," was recently performed at the University of Kentucky.
Scheduled as the seventh and final program in the Artist and Scholar Series, jazz musician Bobby Bradford will appear Feb. 25.

Afraid You're Going Deaf?

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone answering this advertisement.
True, all hearing problems are not alike... and some cannot be helped by a hearing aid. But audiologists report that many can. So, send for this non-operating model now. Wear it in the privacy of your own home to see how tiny hearing help can be. It's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.
These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 5499, Beltone Electronics, 4201 W. Victoria St., Chicago, Ill. 60646.

'Season of sport' tabled by CIF

The highly-publicized "season of sport" proposal that came before the CIF Council last Thursday was tabled.

That proposal would have combined the boys' and girls' schedules for several sports — for example, basketball and swimming. Passage of that proposal also would have meant that the CIF would recognize two levels of competition in each sport and two for boys.

While that specific proposal was tabled by the CIF Council, which consists of one representative from each of the 51 leagues in the Southern Section, a later action by that body essentially accomplishes one of the purposes of the original proposal.

The CIF council instructed the Executive Committee to draw up a calendar which will equalize the number of contests and length of seasons for boys and girls in each comparable sport.

For example, the current CIF-dictated maximum number of regular season games for a boys' basketball team is 22; for a girls' team, the maximum is 18.

The CIF's Executive Council will equalize the maximum for the two sexes, but it is not yet known how that will be accomplished. The common maximum may become 22, 20 or virtually any other reasonable figure.

What the new calendar, intended for use in the 1977-78 school year, will not do is combine the seasons for girls' and boys' sports. For example, the girls' basketball season will still begin after boys' basketball is in progress, as it does now. (In this year's CIF calendar, boys' basketball action began Dec. 1, 1976, and league play must end by Feb. 19. Girls' basketball runs from Jan. 10 through April 2.)

Grid playoffs change

One important proposal that was passed at Thursday's CIF Council meeting is a new eight-division playoff system for football, beginning with the 1977 season.

In the past few seasons, 32 teams have been entered in each of the 2A, 3A and 4A playoffs, meaning that it took five weeks to determine a champion in each division — and that the finalists played a 14-week season.

With the CIF schools divided into eight divisions instead of four, each division will have 16 playoff berths — meaning a four-week playoff tournament and a maximum season of 13 weeks.

The new system will of course double the opportunity for each member school to win a CIF football championship, but by the same token a CIF title won't mean as much because of the reduction in stature of each division.

The eight new divisions will not be designated 1A through 4A or anything like that, because there will not really be eight different levels of competition.

Divisions will be drawn up with respect to geography as well as strength of leagues.

For example, leagues like the Citrus Belt, Sierra and Pacific League might wind up in one division while such leagues as the Channel and Mirmonte would be in another.

The level of competition would be basically equal for those two divisions (all those leagues are now rated 4A) but they would be separate divisions.

Divisions to be split?

According to Ray Plutko, CIF administrative assistant, it may not be a bad guess to suppose that each existing division (for example, the 4A and 3A) will be split into two divisions on the basis of geography, with at least some incidental changes in level of competition for some leagues.

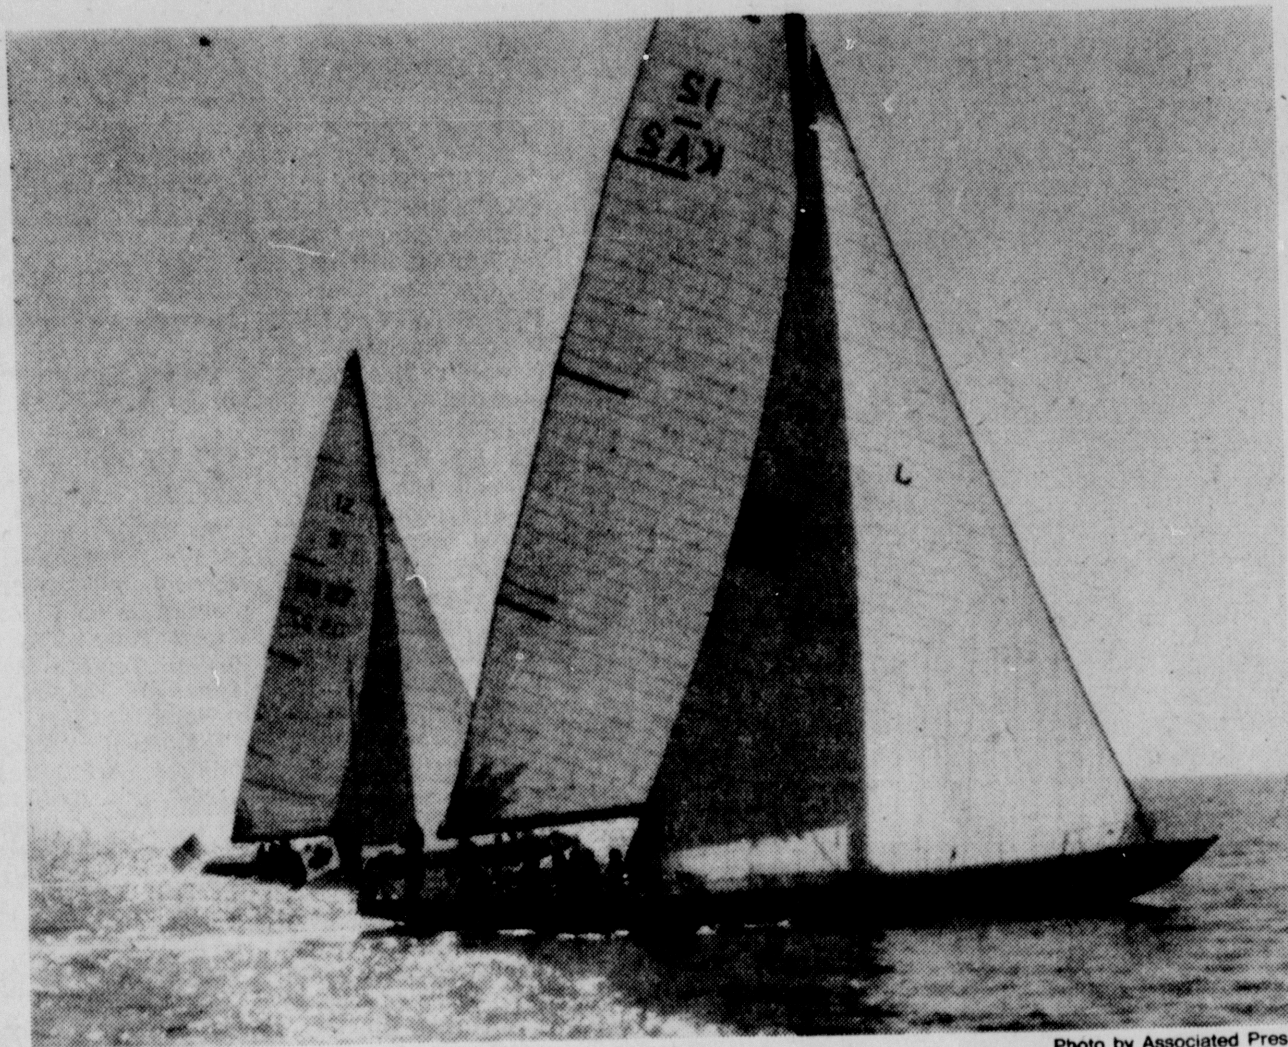

Since the new divisions have not yet been drawn up by the Playoff Committee, it is not known how local football leagues will be affected. That committee is expected to hammer out a plan at a Feb. 5 meeting.

Another proposal that was not acted on — this one was sent back to the Playoff Committee for further study — would have limited the playoff berths in every sport except football and girls' and boys' basketball to two teams per league.

Officials' fees were raised by essentially $2 per game in another decision Thursday, and final approval was given to realignment of the Citrus Belt Area.

That realignment will among other things, make the Citrus Belt League an eight-team loop by adding Corona and San Bernardino, and reduce the Arrowhead League to six teams by adding Aquinas, Big Bear and Notre Dame to the De Anza League.

The CBL will thus consist of Chaffey, Corona, Eisenhower, Fontana, Pacific, Redlands, San Bernardino and San Geronimo. The Arrowhead League will include CSDR, La Brea Lutheran, Orange Lutheran, San Jacinto, Sherman and Webb.

Ontario tries to bounce back

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Staff Writer

Coach Larry Larson and his Ontario High Jaguars are trying to come back from a bad start in Hacienda League basketball play.

When this week is over, they will know a lot more about just how far back they may be able to come this season.

When it was discovered that one of Ontario's starting players was ineligible a week and a half ago, the Jaguars had to forfeit their three league wins to that date as well as 10 non-league victories.

Since that time, however, Ontario has managed to even its Hacienda League record at 3-3.

In fact, only two teams now stand higher than Ontario in the Hacienda League standings — and the Jaguars will meet both those teams this week.

Ontario will begin its big week by visiting Alta Loma Wednesday at 4:45 p.m. and then will host Walnut Friday night.

The Braves lead the league with a 6-0 record and Walnut is second at 5-1.

"I think we can beat Alta Loma," said Larson. His Jags scored 37 in the fourth quarter of their 86-59 win over Gladstone Friday night.

Kareem bypassed by fans

NEW YORK (AP) — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Bill Walton may be the two top candidates for most valuable player honors in the National Basketball Association this season, but neither will be the starting center for the West team in the All-Star Game Feb. 13 at Milwaukee.

Thanks to an enthusiastic display of balloting by Denver fans, that position will be manned by Nuggets center Dan Issel.

Issel is one of three Nuggets to gain All-Star starting berths, which go to the winners of fan voting, conducted throughout the first half of the season.

Jerry West, who coaches Abdul-Jabbar at Los Angeles, feels that in this case the customer is not always right.

"Why don't they let the players do the selecting?" he asked. "They know best. It's a travesty when great players are left off the All-Star teams. I think Issel is a very fine player, he does a terrific job and deserves to be in the All-Star Game—but not by stuffing the ballot box."

"I didn't cheat anybody, I didn't make the rules," replied Issel, who received 182,585 votes to 146,426 for Abdul-Jabbar in the balloting announced Monday. "I always made the All-Star team in the American Basketball Association, and I obviously feel I belonged this time based on my performance, though I don't say I should start."

Statistics support Abdul-Jabbar's case, to say nothing of other fine

West pivotmen like Portland's Walton and Detroit's Bob Lanier. Abdul-Jabbar is second in the league in scoring with an average of 27.1 points per game, second in rebounding at 14.8 per game, first in field goal percentage at .588 and second in blocked shots with 3.16 per game.

Issel is ninth in scoring at 22.5, eighth in field goal percentage at .533 and not among the leaders in the other categories.

But it will be Issel in the starting lineup, alongside Nuggets teammates David Thompson and Bobby Jones at the forwards. The West guards will be Paul Westphal of Phoenix and Norm Van Lier of Chicago.

A total of 1.25 million votes were cast, more than double last year's figure, and Thompson was the leading vote-getter with 319,047. Jones received 184,892, Westphal 163,173 and Van Lier 134,411.

Forward Julius Erving, who starred for the New York Nets in the American Basketball Association last season but was sold to the Philadelphia 76ers before the start of this season, was the top Eastern Conference vote-getter with 310,517.

Erving will be one of three 76ers in the starting lineup, along with forward George McGinnis of Philadelphia, 246,820, and guard Doug Collins, 125,173. Completing the unit will be center Bob McAdoo of the New York Knicks, 279,963, and guard Pete Maravich of New Orleans, the NBA scoring leader, 235,544.

The remaining seven members of each team will be determined by a vote of the conference coaches. The All-Star squads will be coached by the coaches of the teams with the best record in each conference as of Jan. 30.

"I hope that was the beginning of something," said Larson. "We've been in sort of a slump — really since the December tournaments — and I hope we broke it with that quarter."

Alta Loma, 16-3 on the year and ranked No. 5 in the first CIF 2A poll, may enjoy the services of forward Jeff Anderson Wednesday afternoon, though it is not known to what extent.

Anderson has played in only five games this year because of an ankle injury suffered in the Upland-Montclair Tournament. His ankle is healed, but is stiff from lack of use. "Jeff has been practicing with us, and his shooting is as good as ever," said Jeff McCall, coach of the Braves.

"We've sort of been pointing toward having him play in this game, but we won't know if he can until (today's) practice. We'll keep heat pads on his ankle while he's on the bench."

In Wednesday's other Hacienda League games, Bonita will host Royal Oak, San Dimas will visit Gladstone and Walnut will entertain Sierra Vista, all at 4:45 p.m.

NHL stars battle tonight

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Scotty Bowman, coach of the Montreal Canadiens, doesn't mind an extra road trip in a long season just to coach an exhibition game.

"If you get to coach this game," he said Monday, "it means you were in the Stanley Cup finals the year before."

The game to which he referred is tonight's 30th National Hockey League All-Star game, where Bowman will guide a power-packed lineup from the Prince of Wales Conference against a squad of stars from the Clarence Campbell Conference.

Bowman thinks his cheerful philosophy regarding the game will extend to his players, among whom are six of his Canadiens. His netminder, Ken Dryden, will start for the Wales squad, which has scored easy victories in the two seasons since the contest was given a conference format.

"I could find you guys who think this game is a drain. But once the game starts, they'll want to win just as much as any other time," Bowman said.

Coach Fred Shero of the Philadelphia Flyers agreed. "I found out in the last two years, and I couldn't believe it, how happy the players are to be here and how hard they work," said Shero, who is looking to break a two-game losing streak in tonight's competition.

"You won't see players clubbing each other to death," he added, "but they'll be out there trying hard, that's for sure."

Bowman announced his line combinations for the contest while Shero deferred his decision on the matter until after the pre-game practice.

Robinson was shifted to forward because a defenseman, Ian Turnbull, replaced injured center Darryl Sittler of Toronto. Gainey also is a substitution. He replaced teammate Steve Shutt because the Montreal left wing stayed home to await the delivery of his wife's first baby.

Al Sandoval back in action

LOS ANGELES — Unbeaten bantamweight Alberto Sandoval of Pomona, and women boxers headline Thursday night's boxing card at the Olympic Auditorium.

Sandoval, 15-0, fights Mexico's Frankie Granados. The four round women's match has Lilly Rodriguez facing Japan's Fumiki Takasaki in a lightweight contest.

In 1976, Sandoval won 11 fights, nine by knockout. He has a total of 10 knockouts. His last match was a fifth round knockout over state bantamweight champ Jose del Rio on Dec. 2.

Rodriguez, a black belt in karate, dropped a close four round decision to Tyger Tremier at the Olympic on Dec. 16. She is the mother of four, married and the sister of world karate champion Benny Uquidez.

A win for Sandoval will send him against either No. 3 bantamweight contender Sean O'Grady of Oklahoma City or a non-title match against world flyweight king Miguel Canto of Mexico.

Hunter rates as drags contender

Lee Hunter's 1976 race car bore a certain resemblance to . . . well, it looked a lot like . . . it was sort of pink and green and swirly . . . uh, psychedelic, kinda psychedelic with starbursts and stuff.

Actually, it's a little difficult to explain. But suffice it to say that it was unusual, so much that Hunter could hardly wait to get his bonus check as the Division 7 points champion and have a more conventional paint job applied to what last year was the fastest Pro Stock car on the West Coast.

With new paint just barely dry, Hunter's Ford Mustang is suddenly the fastest car on both coasts and everywhere in between and is being touted as a leading contender for championship honors in the 17th renewal of the National Hot Rod Association Winter Nationals this week (Thursday-Sunday) at the Los Angeles County Fairgrounds.

Realistically, it's foolish to think that the paint had anything at all to do with Hunter's 160.14 mile per hour clocking in a Winter Nationals tune-up at Phoenix, Ariz. But that's the only visible change in a car which has now gone two miles an hour faster than any other in Pro Stock history.

If there's another secret, the 28-year-old Hunter isn't talking. But you can bet he's got his Pro Stock adversaries talking to themselves in preparation for the annual Pomona classic which kicks off the 1977 NHRA Winston World Championship Series.

Veterans like reigning Winston World Champion Larry Lombardo of Malvern, Pa., defending Winter Nationals champion Bob Glidden of Greenwood, Ind., Nationals winner Wally Booth of Berkley, Mich., and Warren Johnson of Fridley, Minn.,

are looking at Hunter with a new respect.

It's not that the Irvine pro has come from out of nowhere. He's been the Southwest Division points champion the last two years and performed well enough throughout the '76 season to finish eighth nationally.

But he has yet to produce the horsepower at the national level necessary to join the Pro Stock elite — a condition Hunter plans to change. With the new paint job, the Mustang actually looks faster; as a result of whatever Hunter learned in the off-season, it obviously is faster.

The big factor at the Winter Nationals, however, will be how much everyone else learned. Most of the favorites did not run at Phoenix and will thus be debuting brand new equipment at Pomona.

Lombardo, who drives for four-time Winter Nationals winner Bill

"Grumpy" Jenkins, is certain to have some new tricks in his Monza; Glidden had his Pinto in a winter testing program in California; and Booth has been reworking his American Motors Hornet in hopes of duplicating his four NHRA championships of a year ago.

Johnson? Well, he was the Lee Hunter of 1976, getting off to a fast start in events prior to the Winter Nationals and then sustaining the momentum to record the then fastest speed in history (158.63 MPH) and finish second in the world behind Lombardo.

Hunter hopes to find a similar springboard. But he would love to go just one step further — the $10,000 World Champion's bonus would buy him an awful lot of fast paint.

Champions in the $305,750 event will also be crowned in Top Fuel, Funny Car, Pro Comp, Competition, Modified, Super Stock and Stock.

are looking at Hunter with a new respect.

Winkles guest at Poly dinner

Cal Poly Pomona's baseball team, which won the NCAA Division II National Championship last season, will be holding its Second Annual Hot Stove League Banquet at the Kellogg West Center on campus, on Saturday, Feb. 5, at 6:30 p.m.

The banquet will include a fine meal, the screening of the 1976 NCAA Division II World Series films from Springfield, Ill., and the opportunity to listen to Bobby Winkles, a knowledgeable baseball man. Winkles has served as coach at Arizona State, manager of the California Angels and is currently on the San Francisco Giants coaching staff.

Tickets are priced at $20 for one person and just $35 per couple. For those unable to attend the banquet, donations to the Cal Poly Pomona baseball program are always welcome.

Reservations should be made through the Broncos' assistant coach, Gary Marks, by calling (714) 598-4619 or (714) 495-6058. Reservations must be made by Jan. 28.

Michigan keeps winning

By Associated Press

"Why are we 14-1?" asked Michigan basketball Coach Johnny Orr.

"Darned good coaching," replied Michigan basketball Coach Johnny Orr.

Orr's latest effort was a 92-81 Big Ten Conference victory over Ohio State Monday night—at Columbus, Ohio, no less.

With 2:14 to go in the second half, Orr found his second-ranked Wolverines trailing 81-80. The natives were howling for an upset by the Buckeyes, so it was time for some of that good coaching.

"We showed real poise when the crowd went wild," Orr said. "We brought it right back to them."

Michigan brought it back, thanks to their three-guard offense of Steve Grote, Ricky Green and Dave Baxter.

"Our three-guard offense gave us good defense," said Orr, in an understatement.

The Wolverines held Ohio State scoreless from that point on while hitting 12 points themselves—six by Baxter and five by center Phil Hubbard—clinching their seventh straight Big Ten victory. Hubbard

Duffy keeps scoring lead

The status quo was basically maintained in this week's Progress Bulletin Prep Scoring Derby.

The reappearance of Claremont High's Derek Britton among the leaders was just about the only change from last week's standings. Britton, who was in the top 10 earlier in the year but fell out for a couple of weeks, moved into the No. 9 spot by scoring 49 points in two games last week.

The top five players, led by Damien's Bill Duffy with a 21.2 average, all kept their positions. Ontario Christian's Hank Bouwman moved from seventh place to sixth, past Chino's Roger Hairston, by scoring 45 points in two games last week.

Seven San Antonio League players and one each from the Hacienda, Olympic and Arrowhead leagues make up this week's top 10. No school is represented by more than one player.

finished with 17 points and Baxter, a reserve, had 16.

Elsewhere among the Top Ten, No. 3 Alabama squeaked past Georgia 78-74 in overtime, No. 6 Kentucky trounced Mississippi 100-73, and No. 7 Tennessee beat Mississippi State 68-59, all in Southeastern Conference games.

Among the Second Ten, No. 11 Louisville routed Long Island 107-68, No. 13 Minnesota beat Michigan State 75-70, No. 14 Providence trounced Canisius 86-69, No. 15 Arkansas defeated Texas A&M 72-58, No. 17 Syracuse topped Buffalo 91-71, and No. 18 Purdue beat Wisconsin 81-71.

The "Bernie and Ernie Show" helped Tennessee raise its SEC record to 8-0 and kept the Vols 1½ games ahead of Kentucky and Alabama, each 61.

Bernard King, the SEC scoring leader, scored 27 points and Ernie Grunfeld added 24 as Tennessee posted its 12th straight victory and raised its record to 14-2. Grunfeld sank a pair of free throws in the final minute, becoming the first player in Tennessee history to score 2,000 points in his career.

Four baskets by Grunfeld early in the second half put the Vols ahead to stay 35-31.

Alabama needed five points in overtime from reserve Don Bowerman to sneak past Georgia, which sent the game into the extra period on a layup by Charley Dorsey with one second left in regulation. Bowerman, who finished with 14 points, scored five of Alabama's first eight in the overtime, which was dominated by the Crimson Tide, 15-1.

Kentucky moved out from a 24-24 tie midway through the first half and led by as many as 16 points before intermission, then pulled ahead by 27 3½ minutes into the second half in raising its record to 13-2. Jack Givens topped six Wildcats in double figures with 19 points.

Mississippi Coach Bob Weltlich praised the efficiency of the Wildcats' attack. "It's like the old Lombardi sweep," he said. "You know what they're going to do, but you can't stop it."

Darrell Griffith, a 6-foot-4 freshman reserve, scored 20 points, leading Louisville, 13-2, to its 10th victory in a row, over outmanned LIU.

Michael Thompson and Ray Williams combined for 47 points for Minnesota, 13-1 and 4-1 in the Big Ten after its victory over Michigan State.

Providence, 15-2, moved to a 13-point lead midway through the first half and coasted past Canisius, 1-14. Bruce Campbell topped Providence with 22 points.

Marvin Delph scored 16 points in the second half and 22 over-all for Arkansas, 15-1, which is unbeaten in six Southwest Conference games.

Syracuse, 15-2, trailed 45-42 at half-time, but pulled away from Buffalo with a 14-burst in the second half. Dale Shackelford topped the Orangemen with 21 points, including two baskets that started the spurt.

Walter Jordan's 21 points helped Purdue, 12-4, erase a four-point deficit with 13 minutes to go against Wisconsin. The Boilermakers went ahead to stay on a jumper by Jerry Sichting with 4:22 remaining, then pulled away.

In other games, Virginia Military raised its record to 15-1, beating Central Wesleyan 104-97; Anthony Roberts scored 38 points, leading Oral Roberts past West Texas State 87-67; Otis Howard's 27 points and 15 rebounds helped Austin Peay trim Middle Tennessee State 63-62.

Townsend faces tests

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA guard Raymond Townsend, who was stricken with a stomach ailment Jan. 13 during a basketball game with Stanford, was taken from a Berkeley hospital to UCLA Medical Center Sunday for further tests.

Initial reports were that Townsend, 20, had a perforated ulcer, but hospital authorities in Berkeley said that could not be confirmed definitely without further tests.

Townsend was reported eating better and feeling better, so was transferred to the local campus medical facility.

Pomona wins lawn bowling title

Pomona Lawn Bowling Club has won the Southern California championship for the second year in a row.

The playoffs were held last Saturday at the Arroyo Seco greens in Los Angeles where the Pomona club defeated the winners of the western, central and coastal leagues. The Pomona club won the Citrus league title to get into the playoffs.

Pomona won with six wins, a tie and a plus of 32 points. Santa Anita was second with five wins and a plus 10 points.

Representing Pomona were Don Bowman, Steve Stephenson, Fred Campbell, Clyde McCordle, Manuel Robinson, Dan Wyatt, Herb Meehan, W. V. Dettweiler and Earnest Lenz.

Knights greet L.A. Lutheran

Ontario Christian High, currently tied with L.A. Lutheran for the Olympic League record, lead, will host Lutheran tonight at 8.

The Knights and the visiting Lions are both 6-0 in league play. Lutheran (14-2) was ranked fifth in the first CIF 1A poll, while Ontario Christian (13-3) was No. 9. Ontario Christian's latest game was a 54-49 overtime win at Bell-Jeff Saturday night.

Sports briefs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World Boxing Council welterweight champion Carlos Palomino suffered a badly bruised middle knuckle on his right hand in his successful title defense against Mando Muniz on Saturday night.

Manager Jackie McCoy said Monday that X rays determined there was no fracture but that Palomino would not be able to box for four to five weeks.

The 27-year-old champion from Westminster, Calif., stopped Muniz in the 15th and final round of their bout at the Olympic Auditorium and is slated to defend again in England. However, the city, date and opponent are yet to be determined.

The Muniz fight had been postponed when Palomino suffered a chip fracture of the same knuckle late last year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Quarterback Bill Kilmer of the Washington Redskins has agreed to enter a counseling program in New Orleans to resolve a drunk-driving charge lodged against him in suburban Virginia last month.

Kilmer, whose court date was set for Tuesday, pleaded guilty to the charge Jan. 6, according to Commonwealth Atty. Robert F. Horan. Horan said Kilmer appeared early because he was preparing to move back to his offseason home in New Orleans.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rocky Smith, the star of Oregon State's 53-52 victory over Oregon, was named the Pacific Basketball Player of the Week Monday.

Smith scored the two winning free throws with 1:06 remaining, then blocked a final Oregon shot to preserve the one-point lead. He totaled 14 points in the low-scoring game.

NEW YORK (AP) — Ken Stabler, the quarterback of the Super Bowl champion Oakland Raiders, was named the 1976 Hickok Professional Athlete of the Year Monday after the most wide-open race in the 27-year history of the award.

Stabler, the first Hickok winner who failed to win any of the 12 monthly competitions, received 31 first-place votes and 135 points in nationwide balloting by sports writers and sportscasters. It gave him a seven-point margin over Joe Morgan, the second baseman of the world champion Cincinnati Reds. Morgan received 28 firstplace votes and 128 points. Morgan also failed to win a monthly competition.

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — A California teen-ager upset South Africa's No. 1 player Monday, highlighting the first tour stop of the Women's Professional Tennis tournament in Minnesota.

Tracy Austin, 14, of Rolling Hills, Calif., celebrated her tournament debut with a 7-5, 6-3 victory over South African Greer Stevens.

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Jerry Wynn resigned Monday from his job for the past 12 years as public relations director for the San Diego Chargers of the National Football League.

"I regret to accept the resignation of Jerry Wynn. He was invaluable to the Chargers and he will be missed," said Chargers President Eugene V. Klein.

ADELBODEN, Switzerland — Heini Hemmi of Switzerland captured his third giant slalom victory of the season, beating Sweden's Ingemar Stenmark by .75 seconds in a World Cup race.

PHILADELPHIA — Sixth-seeded Harold Solomon advanced to the second round of the $200,000 U.S. Pro Indoor Tennis Championships with a 6-4, 6-4 victory over Jim Delaney.

But citizens denied view of report

Pomona 'strike force' proposal aired

By ED PRATHER
PB Staff Writer

Creation of a special 10-man "strike force," augmenting the city's present police patrols, was recommended to the Pomona City Council by Police Chief Richard Slaght in a written report Monday night.

Citizens attending the public meeting were indignant, however, when they were denied an opportunity to hear details of the recommendation as the council referred the report without action to a citizens committee for review.

Although that review will supposedly take only one week, residents complained bitterly about the delay in hearing the report. Written copies were provided only to council members and the press.

Despite the furor, the recommendation by Slaght appears headed for certain passage. No council members raised the slightest question about the advisability of increasing the size of the police force and some members have openly campaigned for such a step.

As outlined in his written report to the council, Slaght envisions a special 10-man unit which "will be highly mobile, flexible and assigned to concentrate on specific major crimes at specific locations with high rates of violent crimes. The unit will rely on crime pattern analysis and intelligence for deployment on a selective enforcement basis."

The special unit would consist of a sergeant, a detective, a senior patrolman and seven patrolmen, and would cost the city about $300,000 per year in salaries and equipment.

Slaght predicts that such a unit, deployed to prevent crimes as well as apprehend lawbreakers, would reduce the number of violent crimes in the city by 5 per cent the first year, and up to 10 per cent the second year.

"At present, manpower commitments are such that patrol field forces can only react to violent crime. The Pomona Police Department lacks the manpower necessary to assign personnel on extensive surveillances of high crime locations (robberies), or assigning decoy teams to locations of repeated purse snatches, etc.," wrote Slaght.

"Providing a flexible, quick reaction strike force to concentrate on specific violent crimes is needed."

Operationally, the unit would be similar to a burglary task force that operated in the city under a grant program. Before funding ran out last year, the burglary force achieved a 16.7 per cent reduction in residential burglary rates.

All those details went unsaid at the council meeting, however, when Councilman Benjamin Ochoa asked that the report be referred to the citizens crime committee "as a matter of courtesy," and he was joined in the vote by council member Georgia Grove and Mayor Ray Lepire.

Ochoa is chairman of the crime committee, which includes members of the business community, chamber of commerce, school district and other factions in the community.

The committee has been meeting for well over a year and, in fact, recommended an increase in the size of the police force last year.

"That report lay dormant all this time," Ochoa pointed out. He said the committee already had a meeting scheduled for this week and would expedite the report and any suggestions it might make back to the council in time for action at next Monday's council meeting.

Councilman Adrian Wright vehemently opposed the action and said "it's the responsibility of this council to take action."

His position was seconded by Councilman Charles Bader.

Most in the audience agreed.

Barth Maher reminded the council that three murders had occurred in Pomona over the weekend, and said Slaght's report was a matter of "urgency."

E. J. Gaubling said much the same thing, calling for immediate action. He criticized the council for "lack of sensitivity" when the council did not discuss the report as scheduled.

Another speaker, Lynn Keating, local president of the League of Women Voters, chastised the council for thwarting "citizen participation."

"Reports on important issues must be heard on the dates they are scheduled," she said.

With a hearing in the matter now set for next Monday, it appears that the only real issue to be settled is financing.

Finding $158,000 for the remainder of this fiscal year, and over $300,000 for next year may prove painful if council members stick to their goal of not using federal revenue sharing or grant funds for personnel costs.

Alternative methods of funding are expected to be presented to the council next week by City Administrator Jerrold Gonce.

Job funding extension approved

S.B. County Supervisors give okay

By DAN NIEBRUGGE
PB Staff Writer

Some 581 jobs with cities, school districts and the county offered through the Inland Manpower Association with funds from the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) program will continue to be funded at least through September following approval Monday of a $4.6 million extension of the program by the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors.

The grant extension, which supplies $4,607,044 between Feb. 1 and Sept. 30, will be implemented under the terms of the federal Emergency Jobs Program Extension Act. This legislation requires that all new hires in the CETA program be a member of a family in the lower 70 per cent income level. Candidates must also have been on unemployment insurance for at least 15 weeks, exhausted their unemployment benefits, be ineligible for unemployment or be receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

Locally, the extension will continue employment for 15 workers in Chino, 24 in Montclair, 60 in Ontario and 32 in Upland. Additionally, 142 county CETA jobs will be maintained while the county superintendent of schools will hold on to another 156 positions.

In another unrelated funding matter, supervisors approved a contract for $14,862 to fund the county's share of a six-month alcohol abuse education and rehabilitation pilot project for 80 West End juvenile offenders whose arrests were related to alcohol abuse.

The approval is for the county's 10 per cent share of a program to be offered by the Chino Council of Social Services, Chino. The state Office of Alcoholism will pick up the other 90 per cent.

Clients in the program will be referred by probation officers. The program will be aimed at youths who are 18 years old and younger so that this age group will make up 75 to 100 per cent of the caseload. The agency is the only provider in the Chino area with a program designed specifically to deal with the problems of young alcoholics. It is anticipated this program will provide approximately 750 hours of service during the next six months.

$7,580,000 deficit in S.B. County budget

By DAN NIEBRUGGE
PB Staff Writer

A $7,580,000 deficit will exist in the 1977-78 San Bernardino County budget, according to Administrative Officer Earl Goodwin.

In a report Monday to the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors, he introduced preliminary budget figures which county department heads will begin considering in the next 30 days. Funds will have to be derived somewhere, said Goodwin, if supervisors wish to maintain present levels of service even with the $7.5 million increase.

Goodwin blamed the budget increases on inflation, higher salaries and benefits for employees, capital outlay for new facilities, programs instituted at mid-year which must be fully budgeted for next year and continuing state and federally-mandated programs.

Increases in these areas, he said, come to about $11.5 million, but will be partially offset by a $6 million increase in net revenues such as building fees or state and federal assistance.

The total local cost for the county's program will then go up by about $6 million. Added to this, said Goodwin, will be increases in liability insurance costs, computer acquisition costs, retirement rate increases and costs the county will assume if the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) program is not renewed by the federal government beyond its Sept. 30 present deadline.

These costs total an estimated $8.4 million, of which about only $800,000 could be financed by departmental revenue increases. Another portion, said Goodwin, could be cleared by reducing the county's reserve fund. That, he said, will still leave the $7.5 million gap to be made up for by the tax levy.

Goodwin also said several factors still to be determined will have an impact on the budget. Among them he listed salary negotiations, the unemployment insurance mandate, new programs, workload increases, Medi-Cal share increases and a higher subsidy to the county medical center.

In listing programs which might serve to offset the deficit temporarily (for next year at least), Goodwin included: federal in-lieu payments paid to districts with large amounts of untaxable federal land within their jurisdiction — $800,000; Title II Public Works Act monies — $600,000; revenue sharing — $6,500,000 and CETA — $900,000.

Supervisors were not enthusiastic over the possibility of short term answers to long-term budget problems. Board chairman Robert Townsend urged the staff and department heads to take a longer look at efficiency in their operations.

Supervisor Dennis Hansberger noted that the budget deficit may mean cutbacks in county personnel. He said if the CETA program is not continued, the county may be unable to pick up the $900,000 bill for the salaries of CETA employees.

The supervisors scheduled a special study session on the budget with department heads for 9 a.m. Feb. 15 in the board of supervisors chambers.

Boy, horse injured

An 11-year-old boy was slightly injured Monday afternoon when a horse he was riding bolted and ran in front of a car on Bird Farm Road east of Ramona Avenue in Chino.

William Lee Allgood, 15244

California Highway Patrol officers said the horse suffered lacerations and bruises in the accident.

Alta Loma board okays lobbying for bond issue

By CONRAD CASLER
PB Correspondent

Lobbying for a $350 million state school bond issue on the ballot this spring was approved in a resolution passed by Alta Loma Elementary School District trustees.

Board members meeting at Alta Loma Junior High School Monday night, said the measure to go before all eligible state voters is needed to aid poor districts such as Alta Loma meet building needs created by burgeoning tract development.

Authorized by Assemblyman Leroy Greene D-6th Dist., the bill would appropriate $250 million to rehabilitate old schools and $100 million to help poor school districts build new schools where exploding residential growth has exhausted their bonding capacity.

Alta Loma trustees said they will join other San Bernardino County West End district board members in an educational program to inform taxpayers of the need for the issue. Currently funds approved in an earlier state school bond election total $35 million.

Alta Loma trustees already have their eyes on part of that $35 million to build a fourth elementary school in the foothill district's northwest quadrant.

Supt. Floyd Stork, after whom the new school has been named, said on the basis of 850 new houses in the district, the state should authorize building a complete grade school rather than half a school.

Jasper School opened its doors last September as a "half school." Remainder of the school will be built beginning Wednesday with a completion date of next fall.

But on the basis of the new housing census, the new school under a complex state formula will be able to be built all at once, Stork said.

Cinco de Mayo committee holds meeting Wednesday

Members of the Inland Empire Cinco de Mayo Committee will hold an organizational meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 6 of the Casa Ramona, 1524 W. Seventh St., San Bernardino.

According to Armando Navarro of Cucamonga, the committee will be comprised of community representatives from Pomona, Ontario, San Bernardino and Riverside areas.

Its task will be to plan and coordinate a Cinco de Mayo celebration to include a parade, carnival, queen contest and a fiesta.

Navarro said that the major objective of the celebration is to begin a unification of Chicanos in the area. He anticipates the event will attract thousands from throughout Southern California.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Navarro at 981-4356.

Cucamonga students perform

A special event for children, "Tales from Three Tribes," will be presented by the seventh and eighth grade dramatics class from Cucamonga Junior High School.

The performance is free and will be at the Upland library Wednesday at 4 p.m. There will be a second showing at Rancho Cucamonga Branch Library, 9191 Base Line, Cucamonga, on Thursday at 3:30 p.m.

"This is a cultural masque," says Maxine Strane, teacher-director, "in which the students interpret three folk tales from Iroquois, Hopi and Northwestern Canadian Indian tribes.

The performance is part of the class work of the students and will include dramatic narration and the use of masks made by the students to tell the stories.

For further information contact the children's section of the Upland library, 982-1561 or the Rancho Cucamonga Branch Library, 987-3107.

Pomona Health Center

A program is planned for the orientation of new volunteers on Thursday at the Pomona Health Center, 750 S. Park Ave., Pomona.

The meeting will be from 10 to 11:30 a.m. in conference room 112.

The program will include a film on utilization of volunteers by the Los Angeles County Department of Health Services.

Designed to update the current volunteers and to invite potential volunteers to participate in the center's program, the information will cover all areas of volunteer needs at the health center.

The department is seeking one volunteer from representative clubs and organizations.

Reservations are requested by Wednesday and may be made by calling 623-6811, ext. 527.

Expo hearings are postponed

The public hearings on Expo 81, the international world fair to be held at the Ontario Motor Speedway, have been temporarily postponed.

Dick Henry of the U.S. Department of Commerce reported earlier this week that the hearings on the draft environmental impact report for Expo 81 were expected to be held within the first week of March. However, due to the large amount of communications on the subject, both pro and con, commerce officials need additional time to study the written comments before moving into the verbal hearings.

Pomona, California ■ Tuesday, January 25, 1977

Job figures good, bad

Probably the one problem of most immediate concern to the Carter administration is the persistently high level of unemployment.

It is not that there is any lack of statistics defining the situation. There are, in fact, so many statistics and categories of statistics that one can become dizzy reading them — and use them to prove just about anything he wants to prove.

The Labor Department has just reported that total employment among Americans in December reached a record 88,353,000. Overall gain for the year was nearly 3 million.

Yet at the same time, total unemployment dropped by only 177,000 in 1976 and is still an unacceptably high 7.9 per cent of the labor force, or about 7.5 million.

Sounds both good and bad, and certainly puzzling.

But "labor force" includes not only people who have jobs but people who are looking for jobs, and this category has been outstripping the growth of the working-age population for at least the last decade.

Between 1966 and 1976, the working-age population (16 years and over) grew from 131.1 million to 156.3 million — up 19 per cent. However, the labor force (job-holders plus job-seekers) zoomed from 75.7 million to 95.4 million — up 26 per cent.

If the analysts agree on anything, it is that the primary reason for this phenomenon is the great infusion of women into the labor force. Statistics again: male labor force up 16.8 per cent between 1966 and 1976; female labor force up 42.3 per cent. Almost half the nation's adult women are now in the labor force, contrasted with less than a third in 1947.

Looking at the figures another way: if the labor force had increased at the same rate as the working-age population between 1966 and 1976, it would total only 90 million today instead of 95 million, and the number of unemployed would be only 2 million instead of 7.5 million.

This is not to say that unemployment is not a serious problem. It is especially demoralizing for teenagers and blacks, whose jobless rates continue to be far above the average. It can also be argued that many thousands of labor force dropouts — people who have become so discouraged they have stopped looking for work — are not represented in the official unemployment figure.

Yet the 10-year statistics suggest that even with uninterrupted economic growth, the nation would have been hard-pressed to create enough jobs to match the extraordinary growth in the number of people wanting jobs, and help explain how we can have record high employment and at the same time be making little progress in whittling down unemployment.

How many can you name?

Here's a question to try out at your next cocktail party: What word in the English language has the most synonyms?

According to Dr. Maire Weir Kay, editor of the new Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, the word is "intoxicated." The reference work lists no less than 46 synonyms, ranging from "blind" to "zonked."

It is "an odd fact of linguistic life" that a word with so many synonyms adds more as time goes on, says Kay. Yet each generation makes up new adjectives for intoxicated.

Incidentally, close runner-up in the synonym race is "insane." This word has 41 synonyms, ranging from "batty" to "wacky."

All of which seems to say something about people, but we're not quite sure what.

Joyce Hifler

Think on these things

We are made to wonder sometimes why certain groups designed to help people do not weather the storms — why the formation breaks up and the members all go in different directions. After all, if it was originally meant to give help, to bring comfort, to establish some sort of stability for not only the individual members of the group, but for all who might need its help — shouldn't that be enough to hold it firmly in place?

There's usually a small segment in every working group that is the strong adhesive, drawing and holding together the members. But that heart can become too all inclusive and exclusive so that it no longer needs the arms and legs and input of outsiders. No one stays where they are not needed — where they can no longer contribute anything that helps. Every person must have the freedom to express and take part or the project is doomed.

Religion for good or evil?

Dear Editor:

Ever since reading in the Progress Bulletin article on the Gilmore execution (Page 3; Jan. 18, 1977) the statement made by officials of the National Council of Churches that "such institutionalized disregard of human life contributes to the brutalization of our whole society," I have been wondering just what it is that religion stands for today. Is it on the side of good or of evil?

Its spokesmen, if the National Council of Churches can rightfully be called such, speak of the sanctity of life and yet go on record in defense of those who take it. They wax eloquent about our so-called inhumane treatment of murderers, the "cruel and unusual punishment" of holding killers responsible for their own actions, but voice little or no sympathy for their victims. They worry aloud about the brutalizing effect of deserved punishment (they like to call it "the public thirst for revenge") and yet seek to protect the real brutalizers. Can it be that they have changed the "Thou shalt not kill," which I thought official, to their own "Thou shalt not kill — legally"?

I am sure that few thinking people would claim capital punishment to be a cure-all for murder but anyone with good sense should be able to see that it does reduce the incidence of it if for no other reason than that the dead murderer cannot murder again.

Surely these churchmen are not so other-worldly that they are unaware of the statistics regarding the number of murders committed by paroled murderers, killers who, incidentally, might not have been set free to kill again had not parole boards been influenced by pressure-exerting organizations of fuzzy thinkers like themselves.

If a life sentence really meant that a vicious criminal would, for the rest of his life, be kept where he could never again deprive anyone else of his, capital punishment would not be necessary. But in a society in which it can mean nothing more than a seven-year term, and then freedom to kill again, it is necessary.

Perhaps the members of the National Council of Churches find it impossible to accept the fact that certain human beings cannot be allowed at large if others are to live in safety. Or it may be that, in accepting the easy excuse, so popular at the moment, that criminals are the hapless product of today's "corrupt urban society," they have forgotten one of the basic tenets of their religion, and this that mankind is, and will be held, accountable for the choices he makes regarding his own behavior. Someone should remind them that Cain's was not an urban society, steeped in "crass materialism" and motivated by the "cut-throat competition" that ours is supposed to be. It was a pastoral-agrarian society — and yet —

All that was wrong with the Gilmore execution (since there was no alternative such as a real life imprisonment) was the cheap, vulgar atmosphere surrounding it. Because of a ghoulish press and publicity-mad demonstrators, especially those who made a mockery of religion with their carefully staged prayer sessions (one eye on God and the other on the TV cameramen) an act of justice was turned into a three-ring circus as indecent, under the circumstances, as the disgusting power struggle between the law and special-interest groups, aligned with self-seeking lawyers, which preceded it.

Simon warns of depression

WASHINGTON — Ex-Treasury Secretary William Simon has left his successors with a sober warning about the danger of a worldwide depression.

In private briefings, he reported that the current economic pickup may be a false boom, that the financial stability of the Western world is "shaky" and that an economic setback could precipitate a depression within four years.

As evidence, he delivered to the new administration a set of grim documents which predict declining economic growth and continuing inflation in most industrial countries. The papers are stamped "Confidential" to permit a frank analysis of economic conditions in other nations.

The documents, prepared by Treasury Department experts, raise a number of red flags.

FIRST RED FLAG: Several countries have borrowed so heavily to finance their deficits that they have reached their limit. They can no longer go to the private financial institutions, which have been the source of more than 75 per cent of these loans. Yet there is "no realistic prospect" of replacing the private loan market.

A confidential analysis warns, therefore, that "the international financial system may face severe strains during 1977." These strains will be "severely aggravated" if oil prices continue to soar.

The world payments pattern, states the document, "strikingly resembles that of 1974, the first year of high oil prices." Even a modest oil increase of 7 or 8 per cent, the document predicts, will send the deficit of the Western industrial countries plunging another $52 billion.

This could be a greater debt than the industrial countries can absorb without a financial breakdown, the analysis suggests.

SECOND RED FLAG: Despite the lagging economic growth, many countries are unwilling or unable "to resist political pressures" for continuing the rapid improvements in living standards.

These countries have relied heavily on external financing "to maintain and increase consumption levels." The documents suggest forcefully that nations cannot go on borrowing to improve living standards. The money can never be paid back, the Treasury experts contend, unless it is invested in production instead of consumption.

THIRD RED FLAG: Several industrial nations, short of money and unable to borrow, will be compelled to adopt "adjustment policies." According to the documents, this should have the effect of slamming the brakes on economic development.

Paul Harvey

Wanted: Salespersons

"Help wanted: salespersons."

Now how can you explain 8 per cent unemployment when any day's paper includes all those help-wanted ads for anybody willing to get off dead center and start selling something?

Is it because we have bred and schooled a batch of stick-in-the-mud malcontents who lack the guts, gumption and get-up-and-go that we had a generation ago?

And if so — how can they get it back?

"Motivation" is the obvious answer.

And our nation's comparatively few prominent "positive thinkers" are trying with books and blandishments and seminars and correspondence courses to build a bonfire of ambition under this sullen, sleepy-eyed generation.

The newspaper ads are still there — and 15 million who aren't working are still living off the efforts of the rest of us.

If somewhere down the road ahead our magnificent republic, which cost so many so much, drowns in red ink, it will go down screaming: "Help wanted!"

The news media must accept some of the responsibility for the dark brown outlook of most jobless.

We say that we do not believe in "propaganda." We boast that our nation's free press "tells it like it is."

Tommyrot! Unless it's bleak, black or bloody we never put it on Page One.

Advertisers are spending $6.6 billion on TV to be sure you see at least 22,000 ads this year, telling you all the good things — real and imagined — about their respective floor polishes and cereals, drinks and detergents, vitamins, toys and drugs.

While most newscasts concentrate on all the bad things about our nation and its prospects — crime, pollution, unemployment, inflation — we can prove with those TV and radio ads that we do know how to sell by accentuating the positive.

It's worth $50,000 a minute to lure you to buy a specific breakfast cereal.

That's because the advertiser has proved he'll more than recover his $400 million investment by increasing grocery-store sales of his product by four times that much.

Yet with noisy, distressing, depressing news — emphasizing all the negatives — we appear determined to "unsell" ourselves and our children on the so-called American way of life which, in fact, is the envy of the rest of the world.

If today's kids are dragging their feet, why not?

We pompous, overpaid pundits, so proud of our personal presence at every disaster, are making it sound like there's no place for them to go!

No — I'm not suggesting that we should ignore the bad news.

But it is time for the "news" of good deeds and the safety statistics and the durable marriages and the airplanes which land safely and the opportunities for workers who are willing to work — to start getting equal time.

Doc Peirsol Just in jest

As Will Rogers used to say, "All I know is what I read in the newspapers." But even then sometimes I'm not quite certain. Take that story headed, "SOFT MATTRESS SALES WILL FIRM." — I'm still trying to figure out whether it is the mattresses or the sales that are soft.

I also note that the City Council is seeking an official Pomona prayer. Well, there's no doubt in my mind about that item. Mark my words, if it hasn't already happened, some joker is bound to suggest: Father forgive us for we know not what we do.

Also, it never ceases to amaze me how set in their ways the American people are. The more so after reading that, with the exception of Bruner, Burma, Liberia and Yemen, the United States is the only nation in the world where the people do not use metric measurements in their everyday lives.

A financial page item states that big car automotive sales have shown a marked increase this past month. And why not? Wasn't there a story on the very next page announcing that California Legislators are once again ordering luxury cars?

And finally I have become more convinced than ever that a little learning is a dangerous thing. Otherwise, why would a Pomona restaurant have declared itself off limits during school hours to Ganesha High students?

4-year terms for Assembly?

By EARL G. WATERS

Like bad pennies the proposals for four-year Assembly terms and the conversion of the two-house legislature into a unicameral body keep coming back session after session.

The unilateral desire of the assemblymen, who now consider themselves "full-time professional lawmakers," to escape standing before the electorate every two years is understandable. Politicians live in fear of the voters, and properly so. No doubt many a governor or other officeholder required to face the polls for continuance in office has wished for a way to avoid it.

If the government is to be restructured solely for the convenience of the elected, the ultimate would be to do away with elections. That's what Hitler did and so too have many other dictators and tyrants.

But the American form of government, as conceived by the founding fathers, is one of the people, self-governed through their elected representatives. Reading the Constitutional papers it becomes quickly apparent that all the wisdom and genius of those dedicated men, gathered in Philadelphia to draft the charter for the new republic, was intensely applied creating a system wherein those chosen to represent the people would always remain most responsive to the will of the people.

It was for that reason that it was decided the terms should be short and it was provided the entire House of Representatives would stand for election each two years. There was considerable debate about that but the quarrel was not for longer terms but rather for shorter ones. Only because of the difficulties of travel and communication, telephones and radio, trains, autos and airplanes then being undreamed of, were they persuaded that one year would be impractical.

That the terms of the senators were set for six years was to provide a balance to protect against the "tyranny of the majority" which might result from a transitory populist movement. Even so they saw to it that one-third of the senators would be subject to review each two years.

Anyone who is lured into believing four-year terms for the Assembly would be in the best interests of the people need only examine the present situation to cast serious doubts on the idea. Would the legislature now be so concerned about property tax relief, school aid, and law and order issues, if all were comfortably entrenched for the next four years? Hardly! They would be content to let matters drift, holding to the belief that voters have short memories.

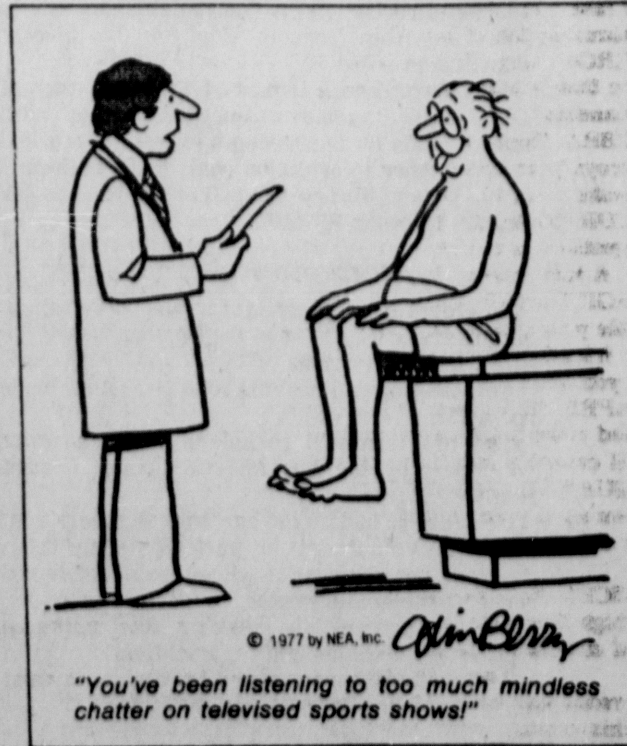

It is that view, shared by most politicians, which accounts for the crash programs presented by incoming presidents and governors. They hope to get all the controversial matters out of the way in the first half of their terms then avoid any further rocking of the ship of state in the final period before the elections which they hope will maintain them in office.

Legislators and congressmen can't afford to let things slide for four years. They must respond to the voters or risk being kicked out at the end of their two-year terms. For, as history has witnessed, things can change rapidly and the people are not willing to wait four years for promised solutions to pressing problems.

California's state government is patterned after the federal plan. Both have worked well through the years and should not be tampered with because of the small ambitions of those in office or the sophomoric theories of pseudo political scientists.

Not only would the lengthening of Assembly terms diminish the responsiveness of the lawmakers to the will of the people but it would surely lead to a one-house Legislature. Fortunately such changes are not within the power of the Legislature but require a constitutional amendment approved by the people.

Dr. Miller

Hamster old at year and a half

DEAR DR. MILLER: Should Spunky, my year-and-a-half-old hamster, feel old? — G.D.

DEAR G.D.: She has every right to — she is.

DEAR DR. MILLER: When we found our new pet at the animal shelter last month, we just couldn't believe anyone could have given up such a big, beautiful cat. (He is large, but not fat.) Campi has been neutered, so our veterinarian simply gave him shots and a clean bill of health. However, here is a partial list of what's happened since: The first hour he was home, the curtains in the living room came crashing down while Campi was trying to climb them. Since then, he's left claw marks on the high boy mantle and on top of any piece of furniture where he has scrambled his way up. He loves high places but he is so big he has to claw his way up to them as he doesn't jump too well. My husband had a swollen ankle for three days after he was attacked; however, my husband counter-attacked at once and Campi hasn't tried that again. Campi has also occasionally sprayed on the walls.

Now we know how someone could have given up such a beautiful cat. We are ready to, unless you can come up with an answer. Friends say he is more beautiful than ever. We don't think so. — K.S.

DEAR K.S.: A simple answer, unfortunately, isn't available; however, hormone pills and/or tranquilizers on a temporary basis MIGHT have some beneficial effect. Also consider the possibility he may not be as neutered as you think. He could have retained a testicle within the inguinal canal or in the abdomen which is secreting enough hormones to account for part of his behavior. If this were the case, it might require exploratory surgery to find that hide-away hormone factory and remove it. Completely neutered cats may spray as a result of urinary tract infection or from frustration. Certainly his veterinarian would want to check him out at least one more time in depth to see if some obscure illness is present which could account for his frustrations.

Keeping his nails trimmed very short could help reduce damage some. Trying to track down frustration focal points could be rewarding. (See if there is any correlation between his undesirable activities and particular household events.) He might even welcome a new friend, female, if you leave him alone a good part of the day. After all this, he might just make it as an acceptable household member if you can hang on a while yet.

DEAR DR. MILLER: A ten-month-old cat has a dry nose. He exhibits no other symptoms. He seems to be acting normal — eats and sleeps as usual. What is this? — C.L.

DEAR C.L.: A nose is a nose, be it moist or dry. As long as the nose isn't showing change in appearance and there's no irritation, it probably means nothing. Ask your own veterinarian about it on the next visit, or sooner if there are other symptoms or if the appearance of the nose itself changes.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Unfortunately, persons who have the clout to grant you favors today are not inclined to do so. Don't embarrass yourself by asking.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It's best to avoid dealing with one in whose presence you feel uncomfortable today. This person realizes he has the edge, and could take advantage.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't kid yourself in business today; thinking you're dealing from strength when you're really not. Only you could be hurt by this deception.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're not in the mood to let others do your thinking today, but it could happen if you choose the wrong companions. Placid types suit you best.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You have a tendency to mentally increase the magnitude of work today and end up minimizing the effort. You'll cry tomorrow.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't pretend to be or have more than you are today. Don't play the old game of one-upmanship.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Steering the middle course destroys your effectiveness today. Sometimes it's better to make a stand, even if it's the wrong one.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Kind words and gentle suggestions are a must in dealing with subordinates today. A soft answer begets allegiance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're unlikely to handle your resources today with the same conservatism your friendly banker would. That's probably why he has it and you don't.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Avoid being too heavy-handed today in areas where you're in charge. Ease up or you'll create a rebellious atmosphere.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Though you'll find it hard to own up to your mistakes today, defending them won't alter the fact that you were wrong. Admit 'em and forget 'em.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your industrious intentions and high-flown plans will go by the boards today when a friend entices you to do something that's more fun.

Your Birthday, Jan. 26, 1977

Persons you meet in social situations could be a big asset this coming year. Make sure your friendship has a firm foundation before asking favors.

About the way people dress

Dear Ann: Knowing you have so many serious problems to deal with, I am reluctant to lay this one on you, but my son and I are having a disagreement and we need an outside opinion.

I take the position that the way a person dresses tells a great deal about him. My son, who is 17, says clothes are mere trappings and not important.

I should tell you that this young man has given up wearing underwear because "it's a drag." Am I wrong when I say underwear is essential for reasons of cleanliness?

What are your thoughts on this subject? My son has agreed to abide by your decision and so have I. — Minor Hassle With A Big Potential

Dear M.H. with Big Pot.: The way people dress does indeed make a statement. It can say, "I look good enough for ME. If it doesn't meet your standards, I couldn't care less."

Or it can say, "I want to make as favorable an impression as possible because I DO care what you think of me."

It's a fairly safe bet that a sloppy, unkempt person has a low opinion of himself. He is invariably lazy and unmotivated. As for your 17-year-old son going without underwear — the clod should be told to clean up his act.

Dear Ann: I am in desperate need of advice. Mary (made-up name) and I have been best friends since the second grade. We are 16 now. Her mom and dad always treated me like a daughter. My folks feel the same way about her.

Last night Mary's dad drove me home and propositioned me. He said he wanted to teach me to make love the right way and not have some high school kid "spoil it all" by being clumsy because he doesn't know what he was doing.

This man is one year younger than my dad. I was so upset I shook like a leaf and ran straight to my room when I got home so I wouldn't have to face my parents.

The problem is, now I can't look at Mary without seeing her dad. Should I tell her what happened? How can I avoid being alone with that man? Please help me. — Superior, Wis.

Dilemma

Dear Dill: Please don't tell Mary. She would be devastated.

Avoid being alone with "that man" again — no matter what. If he offers to drive you home again, insist that Mary come along for the ride.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a divorced woman with a 13-year-old son. I don't know if I have a problem or not. Please tell me.

Yesterday I came home and found my son seated at my dressing table. He was plucking his eyebrows. I wouldn't have thought anything of it had he been pulling out a few stray hairs but he had one eyebrow down to a fine line — like a girl's. I didn't say a word — just took over the job and finished the other eyebrow.

I've talked to a few of my friends about this and they say in this day and age it means nothing. What do you say? — Uneasy In Florida

Dear Uneasy: Keep your eye on the lad. If he continues to pluck his eyebrows "like a girl's" and develops a fondness for your makeup or clothes, you'd better get him to a counselor.

Marmaduke

"We never see eye to eye on anything!"

Cold turkey or tapering off?

Which is the easiest way to give up smoking, to quit cold-turkey or to taper off? A student of the matter contends the cold-turkey treatment is best. To taper off, a quitter finds each successive cigarette more pleasant, not less. So the fewer he smokes, the harder it gets.

Am asked to name George Washington's favorite horse. Understand he had two favorites, a fancy stepping chestnut for parades and a smart little sorrel for combat. Don't recall their names. But it is a historical fact that all the men in his camp relaxed when the order went out to saddle up the chestnut. When he called for the sorrel, however, they rightly understood that fighting was afoot.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS

Q. "How many times have the Germans invaded Russia?"

A. Four. The Teutonic knights in 1242, with Napoleon in 1812, during World War I, and during World War II.

Q. "From what national ancestry comes Yul Brynner, really?"

A. Russian, American, Swiss, Mongolian and Gypsy, with Japanese, Chinese and French relatives by marriage, he says.

Q. "Which is farther west, Nome Alaska, or Honolulu, Hawaii?"

A. Nome. And New York, N.Y., is farther west than Valparaiso, Chile, too.

Q. "If Socrates were alive today, could he read a Greek newspaper?"

A. Only with great difficulty, I'm told. Been a lot of changes in the Greek language in the last 2,000 years.

Q. "Missouri means muddy water, no?"

A. Means "dug out wooden canoes."

THE HARD FACTS

Each U.S. president is privileged to design his own presidential flag, if he so desires. Credit the Norwegians, too, as the world's leading cheese eaters. Next to car crackups, falls kill more people than anything else. Just one grownup apple tree drinks as much as 125 gallons of water on a hot day. It's believed that 13 per cent of the 13-year-old youngsters smoke cigarettes.

Another of mainland China's nicely notable road signs is one that translates: "Press the brake with the foot as you roll around the corners to save the collapse and the tie-up."

Feeling philosophical, our Love and War man today contends every romantic affair between a man and a woman involves six people: The woman she thinks she is, the woman he thinks she is, the woman she really is. Likewise, the three men. Quite a commune.

Soloway plays tough 3NT

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY
Paul Soloway elected to treat his fifth diamond as a 16th point and opened one notrump. Bobby Goldman wasted no time taking him to game and West opened the queen of clubs.

Paul won with the king and led back the nine whereupon West made the unusual play of ducking completely. Had he played high, Paul would have ducked in dummy and been sure of four club tricks. As it was, Paul held the trick with his nine and noted that East had a real problem discarding the deuce of spades.

Now Paul led a spade to dummy's queen, returned the jack of diamonds and watched it lose to West's king.

West led back the jack of hearts. Paul played low from dummy, East played the trey and Paul was in with the king.

He had four tricks in, dummy's ace of clubs was the fifth and he needed four diamonds to bring home his contract.

It appeared to Paul that East had been dealt a 4-4-1 distribution. Hence the odds favored finding him with the guarded 10 of diamonds.

He entered dummy with the ace of clubs, led the diamond, finessed his nine and made three notrump to win the board for his team.

Ask the Jacobys

A Colorado reader wants to know why we occasionally print hands from the early days of contract in this column.

The answer is that we try to interest all sorts of readers and quite a few have asked us to show what happened in the early days of contract.

Walnut council to discuss senior citizens' services

Needed services for senior citizens in the City of Walnut will be discussed at the Walnut City Council meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m.

City Manager Vern Lawson will recommend that council grant an exemption from the building moratorium to City of West Covina on a conditional use permit to erect a water reservoir.

Lawson will recommend approval of requests from the Girl Scouts to sell cookies in March and April and calendars in November and December, waiving license fees.

Lawson will request authorization from council to ask for a county estimate of Walnut's 1977-78 assessed evaluation.

It is anticipated the council will approve staff and commission attendance at the Planning Institute Feb. 2-4 in Los Angeles, and Lawson's attendance Feb. 16-18 at the League of California Cities city managers' spring meeting.

Boy picked on wrong car

LOS ANGELES (AP) —

A 16-year-old boy has landed in Juvenile Hall after he was caught allegedly trying to steal a police sergeant's personal car from the parking lot of the North Hollywood police station.

The youth, who was spotted by officers while working on the ignition of the car, reportedly told officers that he thought he could steal it from the police lot without being noticed.

For automotive employers

ROP 'open house' slated

The Baldy View Regional Occupational Program will hold an "open house" for automotive employers on Wednesday from 8 a.m. to noon.

The Open House will be at the Del Mar Career Campus, 9051 Del Mar Ave., Montclair, which houses Baldy View's automotive classes. Facilities are located between Benson Avenue and Central Avenue, north of Moreno Street.

All employers within the automotive field are invited to inspect the facilities, modern equipment, and talk with the instructors.

Students who complete training in their respective areas are qualified to be employed in entry level positions. Available areas of training include auto body repair, brakes, transmission, autotronics, and motorcycle repair.

The Baldy View Regional Occupational Program has been formed as a joint venture of the Bonita Unified School District, Chaffey Joint Union High School District, Chino Unified School District, Claremont Unified School District, and the Pomona Unified School District to serve the residents to these districts in career preparation courses.

This program is designed to better serve the occupational training needs of youth and adults in this area by combining the school districts' resources and talents and providing occupational education programs that are supplementary to district vocational education offerings.

Each student's talents are developed through involvement in learning activities which correspond to employer needs. Students learn the attitudes, knowledge, and skills needed to succeed in employment. They are involved in practical "hands on" experience beginning with the learning needed for minimum employable skills and then continuing on to higher job level training depending upon the ability of each student.

What's going on around here

'Family History' discussed

Robert Hutchison, a pioneer in the Covina area, will discuss "Family History" today at 7:30 p.m. at a meeting of the La Verne Historical Society.

The program will be held at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of San Gabriel Valley building.

Dues for the new year will be payable at the meeting. These are $5 for families and $3 for individuals.

Claremont Architectural Commission

The Claremont Architectural Commission has scheduled a field trip of the Rosemount Estates Wednesday afternoon before it discusses the fourth and fifth phases of the residential unit development west of Bonnie Brae Avenue and north of Miramar Avenue.

The applicant is seeking a preliminary review of the fourth phase which will include 29 houses at the north end of the tract and the fifth phase which will be 21 houses along Miramar and Bonnie Brae avenues.

The commission also will discuss proposed parking lot standards, a review of landscaping and screen wall for the Stafford Building at 414 Yale Ave., a review of a proposed sign at Griswold's Office Plaza for New York Life Insurance, and a review of two signs for Wayne Book Photography at 1375 N. Indian Hill Blvd.

Baton twirling class

Ontario Recreation Department has added a new baton twirling class to the winter session at D Street Park. It will be taught every Wednesday from 3 to 5 p.m. to children of all ages, beginning this week and continuing for eight weeks. The instructor is Becky West.

Registration is limited and will be taken at the Ontario Recreation Department, 217 S. Lemon Ave. A small fee will be charged. For further information, persons may call 984-6363 or 986-1151, Ext. 242.

PTAs hear psychologist

"The Best Things in Life Are Not Quite Free" will be the discussion topic of psychologist and family counselor Tom Bade when he addresses several local PTA groups at a combined meeting tonight at 7:30 at Ramona Intermediate School, La Verne.

Organized and hosted by Grace Miller School PTA, La Verne, this meeting will be attended by PTA members from several schools in the La Verne-San Dimas area. The public may attend.

A licensed marriage, family and child counselor and member of the California Association of Marriage and Family Counselors, Bade, a public speaker for 25 years, practices in Glendale at Fairweather-Bade Associates.

Ramona School is located at 3490 Ramona Ave., La Verne. Admission is free. Refreshments and baked goods will be sold.

Lost chord program

The monthly meeting of the San Gabriel-Pomona Valley Lost Chord Club, will be held tonight at 7 in the conference room at Queen of the Valley Hospital, West Covina.

The guest speaker will be Dr. Robert Borghi, speech pathologist.
